coppice mostly of ornamental plants and bushes a park like meadow dotted with clumps of trees and full of sunny slopes and cool deep hollows extended half a mile perhaps in width to the high road from which it was divided by a broad sunk fence and ragged paling and was anked by the stream which strong and deep and rapid had cut itself a deep gorge through the rich alluvial soil the sides thickset with broom and furze and brechens and many a polished holly bush and many an ash and alder forming a dense and seemingly impervious brake Beyond the river which the road traversed on an Old one arched bridge of brick lay a wide tract of low and swampy woodland and at the angle of the park formed by the meeting of the highway and the brook stood a small fishing house much overgrown with ivy but kept in good repair as might be seen by the neat painted lattices one Of which standing open showed a white muslin curtain gracefully looped up and a small table with a vase of owers arranged there evidently by a woman s hand About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
