Pyramids Of The Unsaid:

Pyramids of the Unsaid Devdeep,2003-05-01 The Inverted Pyramid Ahmad I. AlKhalel, What if the real secret wasn't buried in darkness but shining right before your eyes Hidden not by absence but by a presence so overwhelming you could no longer see it This isn't a novel that begins on the first page It begins at the first fracture in awareness And the moment you feel that fracture you've already begun Each chapter is a cipher And each cipher a stone in an inverted pyramid revealing itself from the top down not the bottom up The starting point Cairo Summer of 1988 A family of tourists arrives on what seems like an ordinary trip but something in that land had been waiting for them for thousands of years A child begins to see what no one else has A father follows cryptic signs leading him into the heart of the mountain until both realize that what they thought was a dead past never truly ended But 1988 is only the first thread What they uncover there doesn't remain in the past it stretches like a heavy shadow into the present reminding us that what we thought was closed history is in truth an ongoing war A war over consciousness still burning as you read these words and it may not end with them it might just begin with you The Inverted Pyramid is not just a journey through forgotten ruins but a bold attempt to reclaim stolen awareness and decode what was deliberately buried beneath layers of history myth and manufactured science It is not a map It is a living trace a silent call heard only by those who dare to listen And what begins here will not end here New Food Pyramid Arisbeth Gould, New Food Pyramid challenges the outdated one size fits all nutrition model and introduces a modern evidence based framework designed for today's complex world Moving beyond rigid food groups and calorie counting the book reframes nutrition as a dynamic system shaped by biology behavior culture environment and long term health outcomes Blending cutting edge nutritional science with real world application and human storytelling New Food Pyramid explains why identical diets produce radically different results and how individuals can build a personalized flexible approach to eating that supports both physical and mental well being Through clear explanations case vignettes and practical frameworks not prescriptive meal plans readers learn how to adapt nutrition to metabolic diversity lifestyle demands and modern food environments Written for health conscious readers professionals and anyone overwhelmed by contradictory diet trends New Food Pyramid offers a sustainable path forward shifting the focus from rigid rules to informed understanding It is not a diet but a blueprint for lifelong health in a changing world In the Shadow of the Sphinx Reena Puri,2015-07-05 In the Shadow of the Sphinx is the story of two mature adults who outwardly appear to be in happy in their married lives but seek forbidden love Serenas chance encounter at Delhi airport with an enigmatic stranger continues as fate conspires to throw her in Samarthya's path Both of them are going to Egypt she on a journey of self discovery and trying to save a marriage that is falling apart and he on a business trip holding on to a relationship with his wife that is emotionally dead yet convenient because that allows him the freedom to seek physical love without any emotional encumbrances Would Serena find the courage to liberate herself from her broken marriage and seek forbidden love Would Samarthya go back to his normal no strings attached hectic life as head of a news agency or give love another shot in his life Are Serena and Samarthya meant for each other Trauma, Culture, and Metaphor John P. Wilson, Jacob D. Lindy, 2013-08-15 In Trauma Culture and Metaphor John Wilson and Jacob Lindy explore the language of both individual and collective trauma in an era dominated by globalization and interconnectedness Through lucid careful discussion this important book builds a bridge between the etymology of trauma related terms commonly used in Western cultures and those of other cultures such as the Burundi Rwandan ihahamuka It also provides the clinician with a framework for working with trauma survivors using a cross cultural vocabulary one often based in metaphor to fully address the experienced trauma and to begin work on reconnection and self reinvention

Suddenness and the Composition of Poetic Thought Paul Magee, 2024-04-08 Interrogating the much cherished concept of poetic thinking this book focuses on what interview and draft materials reveal of how poets actually do think when in the act of writing The interviews confirm what findings from cognitive science and linguistics make clear we rarely know exactly what words we are going to say until we have said them Suddenness and the Composition of Poetic Thought draws out the implications of a radically curtailed view of consciousness on how we understand the drafting and revision of lines of poetry with implications for our theorisation of the composition of prose Henrich von Kleist's assertion that it is not we but a certain condition of ours which knows emerges as central to this reassessment of the nature of the written word Employing an extensive archive of interview materials with major Anglophone poets discussing how they think in the moments of composition this book also provides a lucid account of the links between poetic composition and live performative thinking in the contexts of Romantic compositional practice and the early pre textual history of ancient Greek epic A transdisciplinary study at the crossroads of philosophy cognitive psychology literary studies and linguistics this book reconceptualizes the wellsprings of poetic thought and advances our understanding of thinking's complex but vital link to improvised speech

Danto and His Critics Mark Rollins, 2012-02-27 Updated and revised the Second Edition of Danto and His Critics presents a series of essays by leading Danto scholars who offer their critical assessment of the influential works and ideas of Arthur C Danto the Johnsonian Professor Emeritus in the Department of Philosophy at Columbia University and long time art critic for The Nation Reflects Danto's revisions in his theory of art reworking his views in ways that have not been systematically addressed elsewhere Features essays that critically assess the changes in Danto's thoughts and locate Danto's revised theory in the larger context of his work and of aesthetics generally Speaks in original ways to the relation of Danto's philosophy of art to his theory of mind Connects and integrates Danto's ideas on the nature of knowledge action aesthetics history and mind as well as his provocative thoughts on the philosophy of art for the reader Pyramid, 1968
