Moral Dealing Contract Ethics And Reason:

Moral Dealing David Gauthier,2019-05-15 David Gauthier is one of the most outstanding and influential philosophers working in moral theory today and his book Morals by Agreement 1986 has established him as a preeminent defender of contractarian moral theory This volume brings together a selection of his best essays on contractarianism many of which have become difficult to find Moral Contract Theory and Social Cognition Peter Timmerman,2014-03-10 This interdisciplinary work draws on research from psychology and behavioral economics to evaluate the plausibility of moral contract theory In a compelling manner with implications for moral theory more broadly the author s novel approach resolves a number of key contingencies in contractarianism and contractualism Acting in accordance with principles that we could all agree to under certain conditions requires that agents are capable of taking up the perspectives of others Research in social and developmental psychology shows just how challenging this can be The author discusses in detail what implications findings on perspective taking have for contract theory He concludes with cautious optimism that despite our limitations it lies within our power to become better at perspective taking and to adopt a contractarian or contractualist mode of moral thinking This does however require us to be much more attentive to the standpoints of others than we tend to be Contract theorists also assume that agents can be moved to comply with principles that would be the object of agreement with some arguing they can be so moved out of their own interest The book show that in contrast to the suspicion of many philosophers this idea is largely supported by research on the dynamics of trust and our ability to distinguish trustworthy from untrustworthy others Bringing a welcome dose of realism to the debate on contract theory the author shows the value of assessing moral theories from an empirical perspective Agency and Autonomy in Kant's Moral Theory Andrews Reath,2006 Kant s theory of moral sensibility respect for the moral law and the influence of inclination Hedonism heteronomy and Kant s principle of happiness The categorical imperative and Kant s conception of practical rationality Legislating the moral law Autonomy of the will as the foundation of morality Legislating for a realm of ends the social dimension of autonomy Agency and universal law Self legislation and duties to oneself Agency and the imputation of consequences in Kant s ethics Bioethics in Cultural Contexts Christoph Rehmann-Sutter,Marcus Düwell,Dietmar Mieth,2006-03-08 CHRISTOPH REHMANN SUTTER MARCUS D WELL DIETMAR MIETH When we placed finitude limits of human existence as a motto over a round of discussion on biomedicine and bioethics which led to this collection of essays we did not know how far this would lead us into methodological quandaries However we felt intuitively that an interdisciplinary approach including social and cultural sciences would have an advantage over a solely disciplinary philosophical or theological analysis Bioethics if it is to have adequate discriminatory power should include sensitivity to the cultural contexts of biomedicine and also to the cultural contexts of bioethics itself Context awareness of course is not foreign to philosophical or theological bioethics for the simple reason that the issues tackled in the debates as in other fields of ethics could not be adequately understood outside their contexts Moral issues are always accompanied by contexts When we try to unpack them which is necessary to make them accessible to ethical discussion we are regularly confronted with the fact that in removing too much of the context we do not clarify an issue but make it less comprehensible The context at least some essential parts of it is intrinsic to the issue Unpacking in ethics is therefore a different procedure It does not mean peeling the context off but rather identifying which contextual elements are essential for an understanding of the key moral aspects of the issue and explaining how they establish its particular character

Liberty, Games and Contracts Malcolm Murray, 2016-05-06 Jan Narveson is one of the most significant contemporary defenders of the libertarian political position Unlike other libertarians who typically defend their view with reference to natural rights or an appeal to utilitarianism Narveson's main contribution has been to offer a philosophical defence of libertarianism based on a Hobbesian individualist contractarian ethic Critiques of Narveson's contractarian libertarianism fall into three categories those that reject contractarian moral theory those that reject any link between contractarianism and libertarianism and those that accuse libertarians of conflating liberty with property In this book Malcolm Murray brings together the most significant of Narveson's critics and presents their work alongside replies by Jan Narveson

Rational Deliberation David P. Gauthier, 2022 This book presents a selection of Gauthier's writings on practical rationality and deliberation The chapters develop and clarify Gauthier's theory of practical rationality and draw out insights relevant to economic theory

Taking Chances Jordan Howard Sobel, 1994-04-29 J Howard Sobel has long been recognized as an important figure in philosophical discussions of rational decision He has done much to help formulate the concept of causal decision theory In this volume of essays Sobel explores the Bayesian idea that rational actions maximize expected values where an action's expected value is a weighted average of its agent's values for its possible total outcomes Newcomb's Problem and The Prisoner's Dilemma are discussed and Allais type puzzles are viewed from the perspective of causal world Bayesianism The author establishes principles for distinguishing options in decision problems and studies ways in which perfectly rational causal maximizers can be capable of resolute choices Sobel also views critically Gauthier's revisionist ideas about maximizing rationality This collection will be a desideratum for anyone working in the field of rational choice theory whether in philosophy economics political science psychology or statistics Howard Sobel's work in decision theory is certainly among the most important interesting and challenging that is being done by philosophers

New Ethics--new Society, Or, The Dawn of Justice Timo Airaksinen, Olli Loukola, 2000

The Moral Gap J. E. Hare, 1996 In the final section of the book Hare looks in more detail at the Christian doctrines of atonement justification and sanctification He discusses Kierkegaard's account of the relation between the ethical life and the Christian life and ends by considering human forgiveness and the ways in which God's forgiveness is both like and unlike our forgiveness of each other

Cognitive Education and Testing Eugene Meehan, 1991-05-30 The immediate purpose of this study is to explain the essentials of a promising approach to measuring and improving cognitive performance and to summarize the exceptional results obtained from years of experimental applications in the United States and abroad The extended purpose is the glaring inadequacy of intellectual performance of those educated in the United States and elsewhere compared to current needs Meehan s study is significant for democratic societies in its claims that skill levels can be raised regardless of IQ scores or even grade point averages The Development of Ethics: From Suarez to Rousseau Terence Irwin,2007 Australian Journal of Political Science,1990 Impartiality, Neutrality and Justice Paul Joseph Kelly,1998 Justice as Impartiality confronts issues at the heart of modern political philosophy This work examines Barry s thesis expanding the discussion beyond the text to wider issues at the centre of contemporary debates about the nature and theories of distributive justice It brings together responses from a range of Barry s critics including feminists utilitarians mutual advantage theorists care theorists and anti contractarians

Selected Acquisitions Robert Crown Law Library,1992 Ethics Lawrence M. Hinman,1998 This book not only provides an introduction to the main traditions in ethical thought Aristotle and virtue ethics Mill and utilitarianism and Kant and deontology but also offers a conceptual framework ethical pluralism for understanding the relationship among these various theories American Nurseryman ,1920 New Titles in Bioethics ,1991 Mind ,1992 Includes papers of the Aristotelian Society 1896 1900
