Religion In The Making:

Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1926 Religion in the Making Alfred North Whitehead,1996 Alfred North Whitehead writes in the opening chapter of Religion in the Making it is my purpose to consider the type of justification which is available for belief in doctrines of religion This is a question which in some new form challenges each generation it is the peculiarity of religion that humanity is always shifting its attitude towards it This classic text in American philosophy by one of its foremost figures offers a concise analysis of the various factors in human nature which go toward forming a religion It exhibits the inevitable transformation of religion with the transformation of knowledge and directs attention to the foundation of religion on our apprehension of those permanent elements by reason of which there is a stable order in the world permanent elements apart from which there could be no changing world Secularism and Religion-Making Markus Dressler,Arvind Mandair,2011-10-03 This book conceives of religion making broadly as the multiple ways in which social and cultural phenomena are configured and reconfigured within the matrix of a world religion discourse that is historically and semantically rooted in particular Western and predominantly Christian experiences knowledges and institutions It investigates how religion is universalized and certain ideas social formations and practices rendered religious are thus integrated in and subordinated to very particular mostly liberal secular assumptions about the relationship between history politics and religion The individual contributions written by a new generation of scholars with decisively interdisciplinary approaches examine the processes of translation and globalization of historically specific concepts and practices of religion and its dialectical counterpart the secular into new contexts This volume contributes to the relatively new field of thought that aspires to unravel the thoroughly intertwined relationships between religion and secularism as modern concepts The Making of Religion Andrew Lang,1898 The Booklist ,1927 Religion in the Making Arie L. Molendijk,Peter Pels,1998 The North-China Herald & Supreme Court & Consular Gazette ,1913 The Menorah Journal ,1927 Lectures of Col. R.G. Ingersoll Robert Green Ingersoll,1898 Complete Lectures of Col. R. G. Ingersoll Robert Green Ingersoll,1930 Mapping the Academic Debate Johannes Duschka,Christoph Kleine,Monika Wohlrab-Sahr,Florian Zemmin,2024-12-16 This volume maps the international academic debate on secularity It places seminal contributions from within Western academia alongside less well known texts from various parts of the world in several cases this is the first time that they have been translated into English The volume demonstrates that the academic debate on secularity was and is a global debate with contributions from many regions The collected texts relate to each other either directly or indirectly by referring to similar arguments whether reinforcing or criticising them and thus create a discourse When speaking of global secularity we therefore do not insinuate a uniform world secularity resulting from the alleged global diffusion of Western norms ideas and concepts It is rather a web of relations that is constituted via various different references These references are not evenly distributed the development in the West is often the point of reference to which positions from other regions relate to which they connect or from which they distance themselves But the references are not completely unidirectional We also present texts from Europe that underline the multidirectionality of the process even early on Thereby the volume offers the reader the material with which to trace these global exchanges and references

Religion and Politics in the 21st Century Natalia Vlas,2013-07-26 Religion and Politics in the 21st Century is composed of a number of articles that were presented during the 2012 international conference on Religion and Politics in the Globalization Era organized by the Centre for Political Analysis in Cluj Napoca Romania With careful attention given to 21st century religious resurgence and its dynamic interactions with political structures and the public sphere the present volume captures a wide variety of perspectives on contemporary religion and politics ranging from theoretical approaches to case studies and from analyzing global facets to exploring local situations Its thematic richness and its careful exploration of not only present realities but also of patterns of past interactions and of possible future directions render this volume a valuable resource for scholars policy makers and the general public as well

Critical Theology and the Challenge of Jürgen Habermas Marc Philippe Lalonde,1999 In answer to this breach Lalonde sets out to design a non theological approach to understanding the religious by expanding the form of critical theory and the content of religious philosophy

Time, History and the Religious Imaginary in South Asia Anne Murphy,2012-03-12 Religious imaginary is a way of conceiving and structuring the world within the conceptual and imaginative traditions of the religious Using religious imaginary as a reference this book analyses temporal ideologies and expressions of historicity in South Asia in the early modern pre colonial and early colonial period Chapters explore the multiple understandings of time and the past that informed the historical imagination in various kinds of literary representations including historiographical and literary texts hagiography and religious canonical literature The book addresses the contributing forces and comparative implications of the formation of religious and communitarian sensibilities as expressed through the imagination of the past and suggests how these relate to each other within and across traditions in South Asia By bringing diverse materials together this book presents new commonalities and distinctions that inform a larger understanding of how religion and other cultural formations impinge on the concept of temporality and the representation of it as history

Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity Roy A. Rappaport,1999-03-25 Roy Rappaport argues that religion is central to the continuing evolution of life although it has been displaced from its original position of intellectual authority by the rise of modern science His book which could be construed as in some degree religious as well as about religion insists that religion can and must be reconciled with science Combining adaptive and cognitive approaches to the study of humankind he mounts a comprehensive analysis of religion s evolutionary significance seeing it as co extensive with the invention of language and hence of culture as we know it At the same time he assembles the fullest study yet of religion s main component ritual which constructs the conceptions which we take to be religious and has been central in the making of humanity s adaptation The text amounts to a manual for effective ritual illustrated by examples drawn from anthropology history philosophy comparative religion and elsewhere

Buddhism after Mao Ji Zhe, Gareth Fisher, André Laliberté, 2019-10-31 With well over 100 million adherents Buddhism emerged from near annihilation during the Cultural Revolution to become the largest religion in China today Despite this Buddhism's rise has received relatively little scholarly attention The present volume with contributions by leading scholars in sociology anthropology political science and religious studies explores the evolution of Chinese Buddhism in the post Mao period with a depth not seen before in a single study Chapters critically analyze the effects of state policies on the evolution of Buddhist institutions the challenge of rebuilding temples under the watchful eye of the state efforts to rebuild monastic lineages and schools left broken in the aftermath of Mao's rule and the development of new lay Buddhist spaces both at temple sites and online Through its multidisciplinary perspectives the book provides both an extensive overview of the social and political conditions under which Buddhism has grown as well as discussions of the individual projects of both monastic and lay entrepreneurs who dynamically and creatively carve out spaces for Buddhist growth in contemporary Chinese society As a wide ranging study that illuminates many facets of China's Buddhist revival Buddhism after Mao will be required reading for scholars of Chinese Buddhism and of Buddhism and modernity more broadly Its detailed case studies examining the intersections among religion state and contemporary Chinese society will be welcomed by sociologists and anthropologists of China political scientists focusing on the role of religion in state formation in Asian societies and all those interested in the relationship between religion and social change
