Remaking The Balkans:

Remaking the Balkans Christopher Cviic,1995 A comprehensive analysis of the political and security implications for southeastern Europe indeed for the whole of Europe resulting from the collapse of communism This second edition has been significantly revised to include an assessment of the consequences of the disintegration of Yugoslavia and the ensuing war in Bosnia

Making and Remaking the Balkans Robert C. Austin,2019-01-01 With more than 25 years since the collapse of communism the end of the wars and billions of dollars in aid the Balkans are still characterized by corruption state capture and decidedly unmodern states that are often either weak or authoritarian Taking the contemporary Balkans as a starting point Making and Remaking the Balkans studies the region s history combined with observations based on more than twenty years of field experience Primarily concerned with current issues in the Balkans since 1989 this book explains why the region has endured such a prolonged and fraught transition to democracy and eventual membership in the European Union The young and educated have largely left Governmental crisis and economic stagnation is the norm and much needed regional cooperation has been suppressed by renewed nationalism Wars on corruption have proved to be largely rhetorical Making and Remaking the Balkans offers a systematic study of the issues the entire region faces as it struggles to complete the European integration process at a time when the European Union faces bigger problems elsewhere

Reconstructing the Balkans Derek R. Hall,Darrick Danta,1996-10-21 The past few years have seen the re emergence of the Balkans as the cockpit of Europe The break up of Yugoslavia the regional conflict between ethnic groups the creation of new states like Slovenia and the transformation of existing ones like Albania have made the area of prime importance in geopolitical terms once again. Reconstructing the Balkans looks at the complex and rapidly changing human geography of the Balkans and considers the cultural, social and political geographies of the region and its neighbours. It provides both an examination of the history of the Balkans, emphasising ethnicity and nationality issues, and an evaluation of the historical and geographical roots of contemporary Balkan disputes from a range of national viewpoints. Written by acknowledged experts in the field, the book assesses some of the geographical consequences of the region's conflicts and analyses the post-socialist restructuring, reconstruction and reconfiguration regionwide and country by country. It also gives projections of likely regional development trends. This is a unique book as it represents diverse viewpoints from a wide range of ethnic, national and disciplinary approaches. It draws upon expertise from the USA, the UK and everyone concerned with the Balkan regions, making it essential reading for analysts and consultants in banks, funding agencies and government departments. It will also be of interest to advanced students of European Studies, Geography, International Relations, Politics, Development and History.

Local Agency and Peacebuilding S. Kappler, 2014-01-30. Investigating local responses to EU peacebuilding, this book develops a relational and spatial concept of agency, helping to understand the processes in which peacebuilding actors engage and interact with one another. The focus on cultural actors reveals the contested nature of local agency and its potential to challenge institutional policies.

The Southern Balkans Ismail Kadare, 2001

Balkanization and Global Politics Nikolina Bobic, 2019-03-25. Balkanization, territorial fragmentation, is becoming a significant urban and geopolitical pursuit in contemporary times. Countries, cities and regions are ever increasingly voicing the desire for independence and balkanization from the nation or union they are a part of. This monograph generally maps the historical and theoretical emergence of balkanization, as well as its more recent spread into fields as far ranging as law, medicine, data and security studies, sociology, architecture and the urban. The spatialization of balkanization is particularly addressed in terms of destruction and renewal through a detailed sociopolitical interrogation of architecture and the urban, including their changing symbolic, ideological and functional forms. The spatial connections between balkanization, violent remaking, destruction and renewal and global politics have predominantly been analyzed via the former Yugoslav context and the Balkans; however, spotlight has also been directed to the current political climate of the UK, Australia and the Anglo-Saxon geopolitics. The analysis helps in understanding broader emergent patterns of sociospatial polarization across various scales and in respect to global, geoeconomic and geopolitical restructuring. This is particularly important because drawing connections between balkanization, economics, law, media and technology is to gain an awareness of and engagement with the emerging implications of spatial remaking and global politics. This monograph is a valuable resource and will be relevant to academics and students interested in spatial politics, including architecture, urbanism, geography, sociology, politics, international development, conflict and cultural studies.

The Balkans and the Challenge of Economic Integration Stefano

Bianchini, Milica Uvalić, 1997 International Perspectives on the Balkans Jacques Rupnik, 2003 The Development of the Balkan Region George Petrakos, Stojan Totev, 2001 A comparative overview and analysis of the economic performance structure and trade relations of the Balkan region The Politics of Mass Violence in the Middle East Laura Robson, 2020-09-17 The Middle East today is characterized by an astonishingly bloody civil war in Syria an ever more highly racialized and militarized approach to the concept of a Jewish state in Israel and the Palestinian territories an Iraqi state paralyzed by the emergence of class and region inflected sectarian identifications a Lebanon teetering on the edge of collapse from the pressures of its huge numbers of refugees and its sect bound political system and the rise of a wide variety of Islamist paramilitary organizations seeking to operate outside all these states The region's emergence as a zone of violence characterized by a viciously dystopian politics of identity is a relatively recent phenomenon developing only over the past century but despite these shallow historical roots the mass violence and dispossession now characterizing Syria Lebanon Israel Palestine and Iraq have emerged as some of the twenty first century's most intractable problems In this study Laura Robson uses a framework of mass violence encompassing the concepts of genocide ethnic cleansing forced migration appropriation of resources mass deportation and forcible denationalization to explain the emergence of a dystopian politics of identity across the Eastern Mediterranean in the modern era and to illuminate the contemporary breakdown of the state from Syria to Iraq to Israel German-Balkan Entangled Histories in the Twentieth Century Christopher A. Molnar, Mirna Zakic, 2020-10-20 This volume brings together a diverse group of scholars from North America and Europe to explore the history and memory of Germany's fateful push for power in the Balkans during the era of the two world wars and the long postwar period Each chapter focuses on one or more of four interrelated themes war empire forced migration and memory The first section War and Empire in the Balkans explores Germany's quest for empire in Southeast Europe during the first half of the century a goal that was pursued by economic and military means The book's second section Aftershocks and Memories of War focuses on entangled German Balkan histories that were shaped by or a direct legacy of Germany's exceptionally destructive push for power in Southeast Europe during World War II German Balkan Entangled Histories in the Twentieth Century expands and enriches the neglected topic of Germany's continued entanglements with the Balkans in the era of the world wars the Cold War and today The Balkans Divided Andrey Ivanov, 1996 The monograph analyses the roots of some of the most significant ethnically based or ethnically worded conflicts in Europe defines their participants' rationales and answers the question of how they relate to the issue of European security It is based on two case studies former Yugoslavia and Bulgaria Since the question of secession and self-determination is not that clearcut the author analyses this ambiguity and examines the options He discusses the impact of the Balkan crisis on international relations and attempts to go beyond regional security issues and to put the problem of Balkan security into a broader European perspective This includes addressing the question as to whether NATO membership is the only solution to Eastern Europe's security concerns In the last chapter the idea of a regional defense structure is analysed European Integration and the Balkans Theodor Winkler,2002 The Carnegie Report and the Balkans Today, Sofia, March 31-April 2, 1995 ,1996

Greece Prepares for the Twenty-first Century Theofanis G. Stavrou,1995 At the end of the 20th century Greece stands poised between tradition and modernity with some institutions such as the Orthodox church rooted in the past and others such as the European Union tugging toward the future Greece is striving to modernize its economy and its culture as it confronts the aftermath of the Cold War especially the break up of Yugoslavia with its possible threat to Greek Macedonia and the demands of European Union membership The Nation ,1915 Journal of the Hellenic Diaspora ,2003
