Native Americans In The School Systems:

Native Americans in the School System Carol J. Ward, 2005-06-24 Carol Ward examines persistent dropout rates among Native American youth which remain high despite overall increases in Native adult education attainment in the last twenty years Focusing on the experiences of the Northern Cheyenne nation she evaluates historical ethnographic and quantitative data to determine the causes of these educational failures and places this data in an economic political and cultural context She shows that the rate of failure in this community is the result of conflicting approaches to socializing youth the struggle between native capital and human capital development systems With high rates of unemployment poverty and school dropouts the Northern Cheyenne reservation provides some important lessons as Native Americans pursue greater educational success This volume will be of use to policy makers instructors of comparative education Native American studies sociology and anthropology

The Schooling of Native America Thomas Thompson, 1978 This volume consists of essays by Native Americans who are intimately involved in Indian education All of these professionals educators and scholars are deeply committed to the continuity of Native American identity and culture Assembled at the first Native American Teacher Corps Conference in 1973 they shared their varied experiences These essays are the outgrowth of that historic meeting They discuss the problems and challenges in Indian education today from the need for political mobilization to the planning and administration of Indian demonstration schools and programs in Native American studies Their analyses demonstrate deep feeling commitment and a keen understanding of the unique cultural differences between Indians and non Indians
