Reading Beyond Words Contexts For Native History:

Reading Beyond Words Jennifer S.H. Brown, Elizabeth Vibert, 1996 Reading Beyond Words Jennifer S. H. Brown, Elizabeth Vibert, 2003-09-01 It takes patience and dedication to recover and communicate the experiences and perspectives of those for whom the historical record is lacking or severely limited by the interpretation of others it takes reading beyond words The first edition of this highly praised collection presented some of the best new efforts to examine critically the possible interpretations of Native North American history and Native European encounters over 500 years In doing so it served as a model for revisiting Native history To this extensively revised new edition three new encounter studies have been added presenting original and thought provoking work not previously published the Frobisher expeditions and their relations with the Inuit in the 1570s Thanadelthur the remarkable Dene woman who brought her people to a peace with the Cree and to trade with the Hudson s Bay Company in the early 1700s and the previously unexamined dynamics of Cree Oblate missionary relations on Hudson Bay in the late 1800s to mid 1900s as seen from both sides Comments on the first edition An important collection of original articles so full of insight that summarizing them seems an impossible task The research is exciting and engaging American Historical Review An excellent collection of studies concerning the relationship between Native Americans Canadian First Nations and Europeans Valuable reading for anyone seeking to gain an appreciation of how best to approach a wide variety of issues from a literary anthropological or historical perspective Paul Bartrop University of South Australia Jennifer S H Brown is a Professor in the Department of History at the University of Winnipeg Canada Research Chair in Aboriginal Peoples in an Urban and Regional Context and Director of the Centre for Rupert s Land Studies at the University of Winnipeg She is the author of Strangers in Blood Fur Trade Company Families in Indian Country University of Oklahoma Press 1996 Elizabeth Vibert is an Associate Professor in the Department of History at the University of Victoria She is the author of Traders Tales Narratives of Cultural Encounters in the Columbia Plateau 1807 1846 University of Oklahoma Press 2000 Reading Beyond Words Jennifer S. H. Brown, Elizabeth Vibert, 2003 An important collection of original articles so full of insight that summarizing them seems an impossible task The research is exciting and engaging American Historical Review Indigenous Education and Empowerment Ismael Abu-Saad, Duane Champagne, 2006-03-15 Indigenous people have often been confronted with education systems that ignore their cultural and historical perspectives Largely unsuccessful projects of assimilation have been the predominant outcome of indigenous communities encounters with state schools as many indigenous students fail to conform to mainstream cultural norms This insightful volume is an important contribution to our understanding of indigenous empowerment through education The contributors to this volume work in the fields of education social development and community empowerment among indigenous communities around the world Their essays create a new foundation for implementing specialized indigenous minority education worldwide and engage the simultaneous projects of cultural preservation and social integration This work will be vital for scholars in Native American studies ethnic studies and education

Methodological Challenges in Nature-Culture and Environmental History Research Jocelyn Thorpe, Stephanie Rutherford, L. Anders Sandberg, 2016-11-10 This book examines the challenges and possibilities of conducting cultural environmental history research today Disciplinary commitments certainly influence the questions scholars ask and the ways they seek out answers but some methodological challenges go beyond the boundaries of any one discipline The book examines how to account for the fact that humans are not the only actors in history yet dominate archival records how to attend to the non visual senses when traditional sources offer only a two dimensional non sensory version of the past how to decolonize research in and beyond the archives and how effectively to use sources and means of communication made available in the digital age This book will be a valuable resource for those interested in environmental history and politics sustainable development and historical geography

Studying Native America Russell Thornton, 1998 This book addresses for the first time in a comprehensive way the place of Native American studies in the university curriculum Provided by publisher

Beyond the City Limits R.W. Sandwell, 2011-11-01 Historians have not usually identified British Columbia as a rural province B C historiography has been dominated by mining logging and fishing and theorized within the context of large scale laissez faire capitalism and economic individualism Silences in the historical record have exacerbated this situation and lent tacit support to the dominance of resource based capitalism as the shaping force in B C history The essays in Beyond the City Limits all published here for the first time decisively break this silence and challenge traditional readings of B C history In this wide ranging collection R W Sandwell draws together a distinguished group of contributors who bring expertise methodologies and theoretical perspectives taken from social and political history environmental studies cultural geography and anthropology They discuss such diverse topics as Aboriginal White settler relations on Vancouver Island pimping and violence in northern BC and the triumph of the coddling moth over Okanagan orchardists to show that a narrow emphasis on resource extraction capitalist labour relations and urban society is simply not broad enough to adequately describe those who populated the province s history By challenging the dominant urban based and overwhelmingly capitalist interpretation of the province s history the provocative essays in Beyond the City Limits expand our understanding of what rural was and what it meant in the history of British Columbia

Colonial Relations Adele Perry, 2015-04-02 A study of the lived history of nineteenth century British imperialism through the lives of one extended family in North America the Caribbean and the United Kingdom The prominent colonial governor James Douglas was born in 1803 in what is now Guyana probably to a free woman of colour and an itinerant Scottish father In the North American fur trade he married Amelia Connolly the daughter of a Cree mother and an Irish Canadian father Adele Perry traces their family and friends over the course of the long nineteenth century using careful archival research to offer an analysis of the imperial world that is at once intimate and critical wide ranging and sharply focused Perry engages feminist scholarship on gender and intimacy critical analyses about colonial archives transnational and postcolonial history and the new imperial history to suggest how this period might be rethought through one powerful family located at the British Empire's margins

Empire and Others Martin Daunton, Rick Halpern, 1999-03 Empire and Others explores the many complex ways in which identities were forged with Britain and among indigenous peoples through a process of collision and compromise

First Peoples Colin G. Calloway, 2015-09-04 First Peoples was Bedford St Martin's first docutext a textbook that features groups of primary source documents at the end of each chapter essentially providing a reader in addition to the narrative textbook Expertly authored by Colin G Calloway First Peoples has been praised for its inclusion of Native American sources and Calloway's concerted effort to weave Native perspectives throughout the narrative First Peoples distinctive approach continues to make it the bestselling and most highly acclaimed text for the American Indian history survey

New Perspectives on Native North America Sergei Kan, Pauline Turner Strong, Raymond Fogelson, 2006 In this volume some of the leading scholars working in Native North America explore contemporary perspectives on Native culture history and representation Written in honor of the anthropologist Raymond D Fogelson the volume charts the currents of contemporary scholarship while offering an invigorating challenge to researchers in the field The essays employ a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches and range widely across time and space The introduction and first section consider the origins and legacies of various strands of interpretation while the second part examines the relationship among culture power and creativity The third part focuses on the cultural construction and experience of history and the volume closes with essays on identity difference and appropriation in several historical and cultural contexts Aimed at a broad interdisciplinary audience the volume offers an excellent overview of contemporary perspectives on Native peoples

History Beyond the Text Sarah Barber, C. M. Peniston-Bird, 2009 Historians are increasingly looking beyond the traditional and turning to visual oral aural and virtual sources to inform their work The challenges these sources pose require new skills of interpretation and require historians to consider alternative theoretical and practical approaches In order to help historians successfully move beyond traditional text Sarah Barber and Corinna Peniston Bird bring together chapters from historical specialists in the fields of fine art photography film oral history architecture virtual sources music cartoons landscape and material culture to explain why when and how these less traditional sources can be used Each chapter introduces the reader to the source suggests the methodological and theoretical questions historians should keep in mind when using it and provides case studies to illustrate best practice in analysis and interpretation Pulling these disparate sources together the introduction discusses the nature of historical sources and those factors which are unique to and shared by the sources covered throughout the book Taking examples from around the globe this collection of essays aims to inspire practitioners of history to expand their horizons and incorporate a wide variety of primary sources in their work

Thomson Nelson Guide to Writing in History Jeffrey W. Alexander, Joy

Dixon,2005 Developed specifically for the Canadian marketplace the Thomson Nelson Guide to Writing in History provides students with research and writing instruction specific to the discipline The emphasis throughout the book is on what it means to think and write historically and the authors provide step by step instructions on how to cope with the variety of assignments commonly expected of students in history courses Full of practical information and examples this brief guide can be used on its own or packaged with any of our history titles From Medicine Creek to Daybreak Vera Lynn Parham,2008 Whiteness and the Purity of Blood Jennifer Michel Spear,1999 Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society ,2017 American Indian Culture and Research Journal ,2001 S.
