Recapturing Anthropology Working In The Present:

Recapturing Anthropology Richard Gabriel Fox, 1991-01-01 The ten papers in this volume offer different versions of how and where anthropologists might work usefully in today's world converging on the issue of how anthropology can best recapture the progressive character its basic concepts such as culture once had Together the authors demonstrate that a reinvigorated anthropology must recognize how the profession labors under an existing intellectual discipline with its own political and economic history on a global shop floor

RECAPTURING ANTHROPOLOGY. ,2003 Trouillot Remixed

Michel-Rolph Trouillot, 2021-09-27 This collection of writings from Haitian anthropologist Michel Rolph Trouillot includes his most famous lesser known and hard to find writings that demonstrate his enduring importance to Caribbean studies anthropology history postcolonial studies and politically engaged scholarship more broadly

New Directions in Africa-China Studies Chris Alden, Daniel Large, 2018-07-17 Interest in China and Africa is growing exponentially Taking a step back from the events driven reactions characterizing much coverage this timely book reflects more deeply on questions concerning how this subject has been is being and can be studied It offers a comprehensive multi disciplinary and authoritative contribution to Africa China studies Its diverse chapters explore key current research themes and debates such as agency media race ivory development or security using a variety of case studies from Benin Kenya and Tanzania to Angola Mozambique and Mauritius Looking back it explores the evolution of studies about Africa and China Looking forward it explores alternative future possibilities for a complex and constantly evolving subject Showcasing a range of perspectives by leading and emerging scholars New Directions in Africa China Studies is an essential resource for students and scholars of Africa and China relations

Anthropological Locations Akhil Gupta, James Ferguson, 2023-09-01 Among the social sciences anthropology relies most fundamentally on fieldwork the long term immersion in another way of life as the basis for knowledge In an era when anthropologists are studying topics that resist geographical localization this book initiates a long overdue discussion of the political and epistemological implications of the disciplinary commitment to fieldwork These innovative stimulating essays carefully chosen to form a coherent whole interrogate the notion of the field showing how the concept is historically constructed and exploring the consequences of its dominance The essays discuss anthropological work done in places in refugee camps on television or among populations gays and lesbians homeless people in the United States that challenge the traditional boundaries of the field The contributors suggest alternative methodologies appropriate for contemporary problems and ultimately propose a reformation of the discipline of anthropology Among the social sciences anthropology relies most fundamentally on fieldwork the long term immersion in another way of life as the basis for knowledge In an era when anthropologists are studying topics that resist geographical localization this book

Claiming Individuality Vered Amit, Noel Dyck, 2006-07-20 Individuality is often interpreted as a force for the separation and autonomy of the individual This book takes a different approach it explores the expression of individuality as a form of social action

inextricably linked to questions of belonging Using case studies from North America Europe Africa and Asia the authors examine a wide range of topics Covering everything from studies of childhood and family relations to patterns of movement for tourism work and religious pilgrimage from the spinning of fashions to the sculpting of life narratives the contributors analyse the shifting forms of the cultural politics of distinction The book illustrates the variation and ingenuity with which people in various settings claim diverse forms of individuality their motivations for doing so and the outcomes of their actions

Knowing How to Know Narmala Halstead, Eric Hirsch, Judith Okely, 2008-04-01 This volume examines some crucial issues in the conduct of fieldwork and ethnography and provides new insights into the problems of constructing anthropological knowledge How is anthropological knowledge created from fieldwork whose knowledge is this who determines what is of significance in any ethnographic context and how is the fieldsite extended in both time and place Nine anthropologists examine these problems drawing on diverse case studies These range from the dilemmas of the religious refashioning of the ethnographer in contemporary Indonesia to the embodied knowledge of ballet performers and from ignorance about post colonial ritual innovations by the anthropologist in highland Papua to the skilled visions of slow food producers in Italy It is a key text for new fieldworkers as much as for established researchers The anthropological insights developed here are of interdisciplinary relevance cultural studies scholars sociologists and historians will be as interested as anthropologists in this re evaluation of fieldwork and the project of ethnography

Dancing from Past to Present Theresa Jill Buckland, 2007-03-19 This groundbreaking collection combines ethnographic and historic strategies to reveal how dance plays crucial cultural roles in various regions of the world including Tonga Java Bosnia Herzegovina New Mexico India Korea Macedonia and England The essays find a balance between past and present and examine how dance and bodily practices are core identity and cultural creators Reaching beyond the typically Eurocentric view of dance Dancing from Past to Present opens a world of debate over the role dance plays in forming and expressing cultural identities around the world

A Critique of Postmodern Anthropology--in Defense of Disciplinary Origins and Traditions H. Sidky, 2003

Twinning Faith and Development Tara Hefferan, 2007 One of the first in depth studies about grassroots to grassroots development assistance and development spurred by non professionals Looks at how development is perceived and practiced by members of a Catholic parish in the US Twinning Faith and Development documents the operation of a project in which two Catholic churches one in the US and one in Haiti partner to spur development in Haiti Little is known about the functioning of grassroots initiatives led by those without formal training or professional experience in conventional development even though these direct linkages between citizens in the global north and south are becoming prominent and important channels for international development More than 350 parishes in North America currently work with parish sisters in Haiti alone through partnerships called twinning Hefferan explores development as it is conceived designed and implemented by those outside the conventional aid industry those not considered to be development experts She looks at both twinning s failings and its possibilities as an alternative to conventional development practices Working Paper, 2002 Working the Field Jacques M. Henry, Sara LeMenestrel, 2003-02-28 This book presents accounts of fieldwork conducted in French Louisiana by anthropologists and folklorists between the 1970s and 2000 and looks at the personal ethical political and scientific issues researchers need to confront and resolve when they attempt to explain a modern complex culture by using the traditional tools and methods of anthropology participant observation and interviews The study casts a critical look at the core anthropological concepts of field informants and knowledge In line with the ongoing reassessment of these concepts it proposes that the field identities and knowledge acquired through research are not set given entities but rather are a matter of construction It shows how the personal profiles of the researchers native or outsider activist or academic man or woman black or white contribute to frame the research It illustrates the shifting of these identities during and after the research in response to personal relational and political circumstances It also considers the application of the knowledge derived from research in the fields of tourism cultural activism and language policy in the context of the cultural renaissance experienced by Cajuns and Creoles over the past decades Journal of the Anthropological Society of Oxford, 1992 The Politics of Ethnographic Reading and Writing Henk Driessen, 1993 Street Dreams and Hip Hop Barbershops Brad Weiss, 2009-05-04 For young men in urban Tanzania barbershops are sites of the struggle to earn a living amid economic crisis With names like Brooklyn Barber House and Boyz II Men these workplaces are also nodes in an explosion of popular culture that appropriates images drawn from the global circulation of hip hop music fashion and celebrity Street Dreams and Hip Hop Barbershops grapples with the implications of globalization and neoliberalism for urban youth in Africa today exploring urban Tanzanians complex new ways of understanding their place in the world Intellectual History Newsletter, 2001 Examining Life in the Juvenile Justice System Stephen A. Kapp, 1997 Greece and the Balkans Δημήτρης Τζιόβας, 2003 Greece and the Balkans explores the cultural relationships between Greece and other Balkan countries in the domains of language literature thought translation and music and examines issues of identity and perception among the Balkan peoples themselves The essays bring together scholars from across a range of disciplines historians anthropologists linguists and musicologists with specialists on literature translation the history of ideas and religion By raising issues of cultural hybridity and nationalist or pre nationalist interpretations of culture and history it lays claim to a place in the context of studies on nationalism and post colonialism Greece and the Balkans also contributes to a recognition of the Balkans as a site like some postcolonial ones where identities have become fused orientalism and eurocentrism blurred and where religion and modernity clashed and co existed By approaching cultural encounters between Greece and the Balkans from a fresh and informed perspective it makes a substantial contribution to the study of a rather neglected aspect in the history of a region which has suffered in the past from narrow minded nationalistic arguments Witchcraft Dialogues George C. Bond, Diane M. Ciekawy, 2001 Witchcraft Dialogues analyzes the complex manner in which human beings construct experience and think about the occult It brings together anthropologists philosophers and sociologists from diverse social and cultural backgrounds to engage the metaphysical properties of witchcraft and sorcery and to explore their manifestations in people s lived experiences While many Africanist scholars shun the analysis of witchcraft as an appropriate domain of investigation the experiences thoughts activities and powers that witchcraft encompasses have become increasingly the source of interest and debate Concepts of witchcraft and the phenomena to which they are applied express something fundamental to the human condition and have their equation in the logic of other human practices such as racism and its various crafts Thus the focus on witchcraft is not just a concern with the occult but a manifestation of the convergence of interest in mediating and transcending disciplinary domains The contributors to this volume embrace the challenge of exploring witchcraft as a mode of experiencing and explaining human circumstances as well as confronting the limitations of their own intellectual traditions and paradigms The range of their explorations takes us in new directions making use not only of their academic training but also of their personal experiences to reframe the conceptual terrain of the occult and the epistemological orientations of their various academic fields of inquiry Anthropological Notebooks ,1999
