

REPORT TO THE AAPM RADIATION THERAPY COMMITTEE

Report No. 111

November 1, 2001 – March 31, 2002

PERSONNEL

Robert Pinney began work on January 22, 2002 as a TLD technician. He replaces an employee who left at the end of last year.

Paola Alvarez, M.S. has been recruited to take the vacant Medical Physicist position. She is expected to arrive in Houston in July. She will be leaving positions at the Universidad Nacional de General San Martin and at the Comision Nacional de Energia Atomica in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The latter position involves work at the Secondary Standard Dosimetry Laboratory in Buenos Aires. Ms. Alvarez completed a six month practical training experience at the RPC several years ago.

GRANT ACTIVITIES

The RPC major grant began its third year of the current five year cycle on January 1, 2002.

The Advanced Technology Subcontract with the Image Guided Therapy QA Center (ITC) in St. Louis will end on March 31, 2002. The ITC has submitted an application for continuation of this contract for an additional five-year period. The RPC will again be a subcontractor on this contract.

The Advanced Technology QA Consortium (ATC) has met twice since our previous report, on November 19, 2001 and on March 8, 2002. The groups participating in the conference calls included the RPC, the ITC, the Quality Assurance Review Center (QARC), the Resource Center for Emerging Technologies (RCET) and the Physics Committee of the Radiation Therapy Oncology Group (RTOG). These groups all exist to support NCI funded clinical trials in radiation therapy because the efficacy of the treatments is directly dependent upon the use of correct physics methods and data. The purpose of these meetings has been to enhance the interaction among the various QA offices, to collaborate on issues having similar requirements among the study groups, and to plan further activities in light of the increasing complexity of radiation therapy due to new technologies.

The RPC continues to interact frequently with the Cancer Trials Support Unit (CTSU) on conference calls and by email. In response to suggestions and requests from CTSU, the RPC has made available on its web site a list of all monitored institutions. The list is searchable, and can also be downloaded in alphabetical or zip code order. In addition, some information regarding the treatment equipment available at each institution is available. Another significant feature is the assignment of a unique radiotherapy facility number (RTF#) to help uniquely identify
