Shifting Borders Jean-François Bélisle, Reid Cooper, Luke Nicholson, 2021-02-19 Shifting Borders brings together new research on visual culture by scholars located across North America This compilation of essays explores the notion of borders in a range of domains including art history architecture art theory video games performance art artistic creation and photography The authors seek to address contemporary concerns affecting larger society through the lens of visual culture The world is becoming increasingly globalized as nations and multilateral organizations advocate freer international trade the sharing of technological and political ideas and multiculturalism Yet despite a rhetorical attachment to the message of lower national barriers there has been a concomitant rise in veiled borders These barriers promise to maintain cultural exclusion and economic hegemony The essays in this volume share a desire to re-examine inherited knowledge systems to redefine the terms of debate and create spaces that more accurately reflect a just reality While this is not the unique purview of Postmodern ethics what is novel here is the willingness of the authors of these essays and the artists they investigate to identify with dwell in and expand upon the margins of their particular subject matter The essays presented in Shifting Borders have the force to open up new forms and understandings of cultural difference and initiate new perspectives in and beyond their respective domains

Shifting Borders Stefano Jacoviello, Tammaso Sbriccoli, 2012-12-19 In the last few decades creolisation has become a recurrent feature in the works of scholars from many disciplines serving as a useful metaphor for understanding contemporary societies in a world of globalisation More than a metaphor creolisation can be conceived as a powerful analytical and theoretical tool in order to grasp the current dynamics of intercultural encounter and conflict allowing a close look at the production of new subjectivities and identities In accordance with this viewpoint in this book creolisation processes have been investigated under the interdisciplinary gaze of a wide European research group which has tried to detect creole patterns in the fields of literature arts politics and the labour market as well as in the daily practices of people who enact peculiar strategies in order to posit themselves in highly exclusive contexts By focusing on the multiplicity of shifting borders that today articulate the sense of daily life along multiple contiguous universes this collective work addresses problems of citizenship intercultural politics and difficult cohabitations starting from the analysis of their narratives and discursive representations This volume thus has much to say about moving and mixing in our times and shows in more ways how thinking about creolist and related notions can be very fruitful
