Neutrino Physics in Present and Future Kamioka Water-Čerenkov Detectors with Neutron Tagging Pablo Fernández Menéndez, 2018-07-21 This book discusses the upgrade of the Super Kamiokande SK detector which consists in the addition of a salt of gadolinium into the detector's water the goal being to endow it with a very high efficiency ability to detect neutrons the SuperK Gd project This will substantially improve the scientific value of the SK detector because among others neutron production is related to the matter antimatter character of the interacting neutrino In this book the authors develop several procedures for maximizing the impact of neutron tagging in various physics analyses involving a broad range of neutrino energy They thoroughly study the impact of new backgrounds introduced by Gd in key physics analyses most remarkably including the search for the Diffuse Supernova Neutrino Background At GeV energies the neutron tagging improvements are evaluated by performing a complete neutrino oscillation sensitivity study using atmospheric and long baseline neutrinos with a focus on the neutrino mass hierarchy and the leptonic CP violation In order to prove the relevance of neutron tagging with the available data the authors apply the neutron tagging tools developed here to the 4th phase of the SK detector which is already capable of detecting a low fraction of the neutrons produced through hydrogen neutron captures A global oscillation analysis of the SK's atmospheric neutrino data is also conducted The Publishers Weekly, 1904 Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports, 1982 Advanced Telescope and Instrumentation Control Software, 2002 Particle Physics and the Universe Josip Trampetic, Julius Wess, 2006-01-25 The Adriatic Meetings have traditionally been conferences on the most advanced status of science They are one of the very few conferences in physics aiming at a very broad participation of young and experienced researchers with different backgrounds in particle physics Particle physics has grown into a highly multi faceted discipline over the sixty years of its existence mainly because of two reasons Particle physics as an experimental science is in need of large scale laboratory set ups involving typically collaborations of several hundreds or even thousands of researchers and technicians with the most diverse expertise This forces particle physics being one of the most fundamental disciplines of physics to maintain a constant interchange and contact with other disciplines notably solid state physics and laser physics cosmology and trophysics mathematical physics and mathematics Since the expertise necessary in doing research in particle physics has become tremendously demanding in the last years the field tends to organize purely expert conferences meetings and summer schools such as for detector development for astroparticle physics or for string theory The Adriatic Meeting through its entire history has been a place for exchanging exchange between theory and experiment The 9th Adriatic Meeting successfully continued this tradition and even intensified the cross discipline communication by establishing new contacts between the community of cosmologists and of particle physicists The exchange between theorists and experimentalists was impressively intensive and will certainly have a lasting effect on several research projects of the European and world wide physics community The Scrap Book, 1908
