Portraits From Memory:

Portraits from Memory Bertrand Russell, 2020-11-29 I have come to think that one of the main causes of trouble in the world is dogmatic and fanatical belief in some doctrine for which there is no adequate evidence Bertrand Russell Portraits from Memory Portraits from Memory is one of Bertrand Russell's most self-reflective and engaging books Whilst not intended as an autobiography it is a vivid recollection of some of his celebrated contemporaries such as George Bernard Shaw Sidney and Beatrice Webb and D H Lawrence Russell provides some arresting and sometimes amusing insights into writers with whom he corresponded He was fascinated by Joseph Conrad with whom he formed a strong emotional bond writing that his Heart of Darkness was not just a story but an expression of Conrad's philosophy of life There are also some typically pithy Russellian observations H G Wells derived his importance from quantity rather than quality whilst after a brief and fraught friendship Russell thought D H Lawrence had no real wish to make the world better but only to indulge in eloquent soliloquy about how bad it was This engaging book also includes some of Russell's customary razor sharp essays on a rich array of subjects from his ardent pacifism liberal politics and morality to the ethics of education the skills of good writing and how he came to philosophy as a young man These include A Plea for Clear Thinking A Philosophy for Our Time and How I Write Portraits from Memory is Russell at his best and will enthrall those new to Russell as well as those already well acquainted with his work This Routledge Classics edition includes a new foreword by the Russell scholar Nicholas Griffin editor of The Selected Letters of Bertrand Russell

Portraits from Memory Richard Goldschmidt, 1956 Portraits from memory Ernst Jokl, 1990 The Prisons Memory Archive: A Case Study in Filmed Memory of Conflict Jolene Mairs Dyer, Conor McCafferty, Cahal McLaughlin, 2022-09-06 The Prisons Memory Archive PMA explores ways that narratives of a conflicted past are filmed at the site of the experiences and later negotiated in a contested present in the North of Ireland Given the state's failed attempts at establishing an official process for addressing the legacy of the conflict that lasted between 1968 and 1998 there are a number of community and academic initiatives that have taken up this task The Prisons Memory Archive is one such project whose aim is to research the possibilities of engaging with the story of the other in a society that is emerging from decades of political violence The PMA filmed back inside the prisons with those who passed through Armagh Gaol 2006 and the Maze and Long Kesh Prison 2007 which were both touchstone and tinderbox during the 30 years of violent conflict We applied protocols of co-ownership where participants become co-authors of their own story with the right to withdraw up to the point of exhibition inclusivity to ensure a multi-narrative archive with prison staff prisoners visitors teachers chaplains etc and life story telling where leading questions are eschewed in order to return more agency to the participants Currently the full archive made up of 160 walk and talk recordings totaling 300 hours of filmed material is available at the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland where it is preserved and made accessible to the public and a website has been designed for educational use of the archive This collection offers critical reflections on the processes of recording archiving and utilising the archive in its several manifestations e g feature films website and full archive at the Public Records Office The perspectives offer a range of reflections including filming editing archiving web design education and museum practice *Portraits from memory, and other essays. Negotiating Memory from the Romans to the Twenty-First Century Øivind Fuglerud,Kjersti Larsen,Marina Prusac-Lindhagen,2020-09-14 Manipulation of the past and forced erasure of memories have been global phenomena throughout history spanning a varied repertoire from the destruction or alteration of architecture sites and images to the banning or imposing of old and new practices The present volume addresses these questions comparatively across time and geography and combines a material approach to the study of memory with cross disciplinary empirical explorations of historical and contemporary cases This approach positions the volume as a reference point within several fields of humanities and social sciences The collection brings together scholars from different fields within humanities and social science to engage with memorialization and damnatio memoriae across disciplines using examples from their own research The broad chronological and comparative scope makes the volume relevant for researchers and students of several historical periods
