Plant Breeding Neal C Stoskopf,Dwight T Tomes,B. R. Christie,Bertram R Christie,2019-09-05 This book attempts to present a readable format on plant breeding principles and their application based on the collective experience of the three authors but with a heavy dependence on the scientific literature Modern pedagogy recognizes that teaching can occur when students are motivated to learn Subject matter must be communicated in an interesting appealing and understandable fashion In preparing the text every effort has been made to translate pertinent plant breeding references into a clear logical and comprehensible format for those studying the challenging and dynamic field of plant breeding Education ,1919

The Statistics of Natural Selection on Animal Populations Brian F. Manly,2013-03-09 In the concluding chapter of his famous book on the theory of evolution by natural selection Charles Darwin 1859 remarked that When the views entertained in this volume on the origin of species or when analogous views are generally admitted we can dimly foresee that there will be a considerable revolution in natural history This proved of course to be completely correct At present there is a great divergence of opinion about the general importance of natural selection in the evolutionary process Nevertheless biologists are on the whole united in their acceptance of the potential power of selection in changing populations Given this situation it is not surprising to find that many attempts to detect the effects of natural selection have been made since the time of Darwin This area of study has been called ecological genetics It involves the collection of data of various kinds and in many cases the development of special methods for analysing these data This book is a summary of methods for data analysis concentrating on those that are applicable to animal populations particularly wild populations Monthly Bulletin of the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh,1906 Monthly Bulletin Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh,1905
