Managing People In Education:

Leading and Managing People in Education Tony Bush, David Middlewood, 2005-03-23 In my view this book is to be highly recommended to students to academics and to managers Its strengths of style comparative perspective and dealing with up to date issues make it a valuable text ESClate The sequel to the astoundingly accomplished Managing People in Education this book brings to the reader the latest developments and research in management considering the role of people in schools and colleges against an astute exploration of the key concepts in governance Tony Bush and David Middlewood help the reader to consider the ways in which individuals function within the workplace and explore the effective management of the people who comprise the workforce in schools and colleges There is an impressive use and interpretation of the international research literature and the authors apply this with considerable insight to the British context of schooling and management This is an essential read for all those following postgraduate course s in management and governance and for students of social policy who are taking options in educational studies Professor John Doyle International Journal of Educational Management and Administration Leading and Managing People in Education is a completely revised and updated version of one of the most influential books in the field Bush and Middlewood are two of the best and best known writers on this topic today This is one of those rare texts that is capable of being used by both academics and practitioners since it contains that unusual combination of a wealth of scholarship combined with lifetimes of experience in educational leadership and management School leaders advisers University lecturers and those engaged in courses of further study will all welcome this text I have no doubt that it will become of the best known and most widely purchased works in the field Mark Brundrett Professor of Education at the University of Hull Reviews of Managing People in Education the authors previous book Aims to enhance management practice in education by presenting research findings and theory from a wide range of contributors Skills and Enterprise Update This is indeed a book which could be useful to a much larger readership than the normal closed circle of those working in education Managing Schools Today Building upon the success of the highly regarded and best selling text Managing People in Education this new book covers leadership and management at all human resource levels and spans the whole spectrum of educational institutions It is based on the most up to date research and literature on this topic and directly meets the needs of practising leaders and managers in education as well as postgraduate students in educational leadership

Managing People in Education Tony Bush, David Middlewood, 1997-02-28 Aims to enhance management practice in education by presenting research findings and theory from a wide range of contributors Skills and Enterprise Update This is indeed a book which could be useful to a much larger readership than the normal closed circle of those working in education Managing Schools Today The book presents relevant research and theory in order to enhance management practice in education The editors intention is to articulate good practice on the basis of evidence in educational settings The ideas presented here are derived from international research and practice and apply to all phases of education with the emphasis on applying research findings to practice. Leading and Managing People in Education Tony Bush, David Middlewood, 2005-03-23 The authors cover the overall approach to leading and managing staff in educational organizations including common topics which are essential to those who lead and manage at all levels in the organization

Leading and Managing People in Education Tony Bush, 2005 This book deals with the essential task of leading and managing staff in educational organizations Leadership and Management Development in Education Tony Bush, 2008-03-17 This is a very good and much needed book Written by a very experienced researcher and teacher in the education leadership world it brings together a wealth of understanding and insights in the field of leadership and management development in education International Journal of Educational Management This book is an excellent survey of practice on a truly international scale which many will find valuable Educational Management Administration and Leadership Few people could be better qualified to write about this topic than Tony Bush The book draws on a wealth of experience and detailed research Typically it is extremely well structured written with great clarity and combines the highest levels of scholarship with an accessible style that will enable it to appeal to a wide audience This is a book that many in the field have been waiting for Professor Mark Brundrett Professor of Educational Research Liverpool John Moores University Liverpool This book is far and away the best international comparative study of leadership development for schools There are countless books highlighting the importance of leadership but none have satisfactorily gone to the heart of the issue especially for developed and developing countries and Tony Bush has done it here It is a sure guide to policymakers practitioners and researchers who want to make a difference Professor Brian J Caldwell Managing Director of Educational Transformations and former Dean of Education at the University of Melbourne Australia Leadership is critical to educational development and specific preparation is vital if leaders are to maximise their effectiveness In this major new text Tony Bush draws on his extensive international experience and research to examine the case for leadership development and assess the different modes of preparation used in Europe including the U K North America Asia Pacific Australia New Zealand and Africa He also examines research on how leadership impacts on school and student outcomes and considers future directions for leadership and management development in education This text is essential reading for students of educational leadership and management as well as for policy makers headteachers and principals Managing Staff for Improved Performance David Middlewood, Ian Abbott, 2017-01-12 Managing Staff for Improved Performance provides a comprehensive guide to people management in schools giving school leaders and managers clear insights into how to develop employee performance and ensure high quality service in education Middlewood and Abbott explore human resource management HRM theory and practice drawing on examples from a wide range of school contexts across many different countries They examine what is meant by all levels of performance from excellent to poor and offer strategies for evaluating the performance of all staff starting with the school leader The authors also explore a range of issues including recruitment performance related pay working with unions and other professional organisations engaging stakeholders and the thorny issues around dismissal procedures Throughout this comprehensive guide for aspiring and practising school leaders the emphasis is on taking a proactive and positive approach with a view to developing a culture within the organisation which only accepts very effective performance and supports the style and approach of the school leader

Leadership and Strategic Management in Education Marianne Coleman, 2000-05-28 Leadership and strategic management are both issues of central importance in raising achievement in schools and colleges and thus are at the heart of the educational debate today This book is concerned with such major issues as the nature of strategic management in education the importance of vision and mission styles of leadership models of educational management and the purposes of strategic management which here are equated with the effectiveness and improvement of the institution It will be invaluable for students of educational management such as those following masters degrees It is also directly relevant to teachers and lecturers and schools of all phases and in further education colleges

Managing the Curriculum in South African Schools Marianne Coleman, M. Graham-Jolly, David Middlewood, 2003 The introduction of Curriculum 2005 and Outcomes Based Education mark both a sea change in the way in which education is offered in schools and a challenge to all involved This book considers the main issues in curriculum management as education switches to a more devolved framework

Leading and Managing Indigenous Education in the Postcolonial World Zane Ma Rhea, 2014-07-11 This book brings together the academic fields of educational leadership educational administration strategic change management and Indigenous education in order to provide a critical multi perspective systems level analysis of the provision of education services to Indigenous people It draws on a range of theorists across these fields internationally mobilising social exchange and intelligent complex adaptive systems theories to address the key problematic of intergenerational educational failure Ma Rhea establishes the basis for an Indigenous rights approach to the state provision of education to Indigenous peoples that includes recognition of their distinctive economic linguistic and cultural rights within complex globalized postcolonial education systems The book problematizes the central concept of a partnership between Indigenous people and non Indigenous school leaders staff and government policy makers even as it holds this key concept at its centre The infantilising of Indigenous communities and Indigenous people can take priority over the education of their children in the modern state this book offers an argument for a profound rethinking of the leadership and management of Indigenous education Leading and Managing Indigenous Education in the Postcolonial World will be of value to researchers and postgraduate students focusing on Indigenous education as well as teachers education administrators and bureaucrats sociologists of education Indigenous education specialists and those in international and comparative education
