

SELECTED EXCERPTS FROM

THE OTHER SIDE OF DECEPTION

On infiltrating Jordanian intelligence . . .

"My controller made it clear Elements in the Mossad had decided that it was time to destabilize Jordan to the point of civil war. . . . [The right players would do it through] a high influx of counterfeit currency . . . arming religious fundamentalists and assassinating leading figures who were symbols of stability. My mission was to run the Jordanians. As an ex-Mossad man, I feared I was setting myself up for a hanging [over us, I took the next step]."

On illegal human experimentation . . .

"During that time prisoners were taken to a holding facility in Nes Ziona. . . . [Later, I was told what really went on at the facility.] . . . It was an ABC (atomic, biological, chemical) warfare laboratory. It was where our top epidemiological scientists were developing various disease machines. . . . [The Palestinians were used as] guinea pigs. . . . The scientists could make sure the weapons they were developing worked . . . and make them more efficient."

On the planned assassination of George Bush . . .

"In an effort to bring the right-wing government of Israel to the negotiating table, Bush had put a freeze on all bus guarantees. . . . [Upon making that decision, he was regarded as the greatest enemy of the state of Israel. . . . A certain right wing elite in the Mossad picked the Madrid peace talks as its staging ground. . . . Three Palestinian extremists were taken by a kibbutz unit from their hiding place in Beirut. . . . [My controller] called me on Tuesday, October 1. They're out to kill Bush, he said."

Countering New(est) Terrorism Bruce Oliver Newsome,James W. Stewart,2017-12-15 How should we analyze and assess new terrorist behaviors What are the particular risks and challenges from new terrorism Should we negotiate with terrorists and if so how When should we use force against terrorists Countering New est Terrorism Hostage Taking Kidnapping and Active Violence Assessing Negotiating and Assaulting improves our knowledge of new terrorist behaviors and our skills in responding to such attacks The term new terrorism has been in circulation since the late 90 s This book analyzes the newest terrorism that has emerged in recent years characterized by increased hostage taking kidnapping and active violence and develops best practices for countering these emerging threats Along the way it challenges fashionable wishful thinking that all terrorists are open to rational negotiation or de radicalization that military responses always reflect badly on the official side and that terrorists are not constrained by their own doctrines The new terrorists are dramatically more ideological murderous and suicidal They are generally less reconcilable less trusting of official negotiators less likely to release detainees and more likely to kill detainees They are less likely to demand ransoms yet more likely to release hostages in cases in which they do demand ransom They are more informed about the official side s policies tactics techniques and procedures They are more likely to use new information and communication technologies against responding agencies and officials They are more capable fighters they kill more people despite deploying fewer fighters per hostage Most disturbing is the fact that they take advantage of free er societies to access easier targets Features Includes evidence based definitions and descriptions of political religious Jihadi and new terrorism Presents the first large n comparison of old and new terrorism using an original extension of the Global Terrorism Database GTD with added codes for each of 10 735 hostage crises and more than 500 000 data points from 1970 through 2016 Details a further extension of the GTD covering all terrorist events from 2004 through 2016 roughly 5 million data points Offers prescriptive advice and visual decision trees on how to negotiate crises assess the risk of terrorism and how and when to assault terrorists Reviews official practices interviews with experienced officials and real world simulations of recent terrorist events and attacks Countering New est Terrorism will be of interest to researchers students enrolled in terrorism and Homeland Security programs crisis negotiators and police security intelligence and military authorities tasked with counterterrorism and anti terrorism efforts Statecraft and Power Christopher C.
