Afro-Eurasia: Assessing Sustainability Ray C. Anderson, Louis Kotz, Stephen Morse, 2012-10-31 Afro Eurasia Assessing Sustainability focuses on the geographic area where humans originated and first began to make use of the natural world Earth's largest landmass stretching from Portugal in the west across the steppes of Russia and south across Africa to the Cape of Good Hope By examining the history of human expansion as well as 21st century pressures to address ecosystem damage across the region international scholars and regional experts weave sustainability into core curricular subjects The interdisciplinary coverage includes national and regional environmental histories as well as business and commerce migration educational institutions law and government and the lifestyles of diverse populations

Ethiopian Yearbook of International Law 2016 Zeray Yihdego, Melaku Geboye Desta, Fikremarkos Merso, 2017-06-09 This first volume of EtYIL focuses on issues concerning the developing world in general and the Horn of Africa and Ethiopia specifically It argues that rebalancing the international law narrative to reflect Africa's legitimate interests is an urgent priority and can only succeed through the fair representation of African countries in the creation and interpretation of international law The book begins by reflecting on the ICJ's West African Cases and provides a unique perspective on decolonisation as a source of jus cogens and obligations erga omnes This is followed by a comprehensive analysis of the reception of international law in the Ethiopian legal system and of the potential implications of Ethiopia joining the WTO The book then delves into such topical issues as the relationship between competition for natural resources and international investment law the UN Global Goals and the fledgling international climate change regime with particular emphasis on the Paris Climate Agreement and their implications for developing countries Further issues include the Declaration of Principles on the Grand Ethiopian Renaissance Dam signed by Ethiopia Sudan and Egypt in light of Nile colonial treaties and contemporary international watercourses law as well as selected legal implications of the armed conflict in South Sudan Gathering high quality scholarship from diverse researchers and examining a constellation of critical international law issues affecting developing countries especially African countries the book offers a unique resource

Complexity of Transboundary Water Conflicts Enamul Choudhury, Shafiqul Islam, 2018-12-07 Complexity of Transboundary Water Conflicts seeks to understand transboundary water issues as complex systems with contingent conditions and possibilities To address those conditions and leverage the possibilities it introduces the concept of enabling conditions as a pragmatic way to identify and act on the emergent possibilities to resolve transboundary water issues Based on this theoretical frame the book applies the ideas and tools from complexity science contingency and enabling conditions to account for events in the formulation of treaties agreements between disputing riparian states in river basins across the world Indus Jordan Nile Ganges Brahmaputra Colorado Danube Senegal and Zayandehrud It also includes a section with scholars reflections on the relevance and weakness of the theoretical framework Notification concerning Planned Measures on Shared Watercourses Salman M.A. Salman,2019-06-17 Notification of co riparian states of planned measures on shared watercourses has been widely accepted as an established principle of international water law and is codified and elaborated in the United Nations Watercourses Convention However despite this wide acceptance differences have arisen on operationalizing notification including on which riparians are required to undertake notification and which riparians are entitled to it Issues have also arisen on how to deal with the different types of responses that may ensue following notification The World Bank has been financing projects on international watercourses since its inception in 1946 and has built an extensive wealth of policies and experience in this field This monograph discusses the historical and legal foundations of notification under international law analyzes the policies and implementation experience of the World Bank thereon and identifies comparators and synergies between the provisions of the Watercourses Convention and the Bank policies and practice Geography in the 21st Century Jayson J. Funke, Waquar Ahmed, Ipsita Chatterjee, Stephen M. McCauley,2025-03-06 Geography studies the relationship of humans and the natural environment and these 40 essays examine those geographical events that have most profoundly shaped global society in the opening decades of the 21st century Explore how these events have transformed how people interact with the environment from political and economic issues such as elections market practices and war to cultural and social issues such as racism and gender stereotyping at work Landscapes regions cities nature society development our entire existence is tied up with space and geography and thus geography is well placed to provide important insights and perspectives on the complex events and issues of our time Geography in the 21st Century studies the world s rapidly changing environments and its shifting economic political and cultural landscapes The entries address social political economic and environmental events from the Arab Spring Movements to the Mexico border crisis in the USA that are often complex transnational and interrelated Clear explanations help readers understand the historical and geographical continuity and confluence that underlie these defining moments All chapters follow the same structure to provide consistency throughout and allow students to compare multiple events Each begins with an overview of the event followed by a background section that describes the historical and geographic context within which the event occurred then a section on social political economic and environmental Impacts that describes the results of the event and a section that analyzes the event from a spatial or geographic perspective and explains why it is important Each chapter also includes a list of references and sources for further reading and a sidebar on a related topic Egypt ,1895 Water Resources Perspectives: Evaluation, Management and Policy W.W.
