Sarcee Grammar:

A Sarcee Grammar Eung-Do Cook, 2011-11-01 Likely to become one of the classic works in Amerindian linguistics this book presents a comprehensive grammar of Sarcee an Athapaskan language spoken in southern Alberta Based on the voluminous notes collected by Edward Sapir in 1922 and supplemented by extensive data from Cook's own work with the few remaining speakers of Sarcee the book not only deals with all major areas of linguistic structure but also offers insights into linguistic changes which have occurred during this century Primarily descriptive with numerous examples drawn from text materials to support claims about grammatical structure or rule the book also contains many accounts of Sarcee and Athapaskan data which bear significantly on current theoretical issues Although the overall approach is generative transformational the material is presented in contemporary analytical and descriptive terminology Preceded by an introduction defining the orthographic conventions and abbreviations used throughout the book the following chapters are devoted to a thorough discussion of syntax phonology and morphology The chapters on syntax constitute the only in depth presentation of such material for any northern Athapaskan language A major documentation of the geographically and linguistically important Sarcee language this book will be welcomed by scholars in Athapaskan studies as well as by linguists in general as a significant contribution to the general knowledge of language and linguistic theory

The Languages of Native North America Marianne Mithun, 2001-06-07 This book provides an authoritative survey of the several hundred languages indigenous to North America These languages show tremendous genetic and typological diversity and offer numerous challenges to current linguistic theory Part I of the book provides an overview of structural features of particular interest concentrating on those that are cross linguistically unusual or unusually well developed These include syllable structure vowel and consonant harmony tone and sound symbolism polysynthesis the nature of roots and affixes incorporation and morpheme order case grammatical distinctions of number gender shape control location means manner time empathy and evidence and distinctions between nouns and verbs predicates and arguments and simple and complex sentences and special speech styles Part II catalogues the languages by family listing the location of each language its genetic affiliation number of speakers major published literature and structural highlights Finally there is a catalogue of languages that have evolved in contact situations
