Modern Methods of Engineering Computation Robert L. Ketter, Sherwood P. Prawel, 1969 Modern Methods of Engineering Computation [by] Robert L. Ketter [and] Sherwood P. Prawel, Jr Robert L. Ketter, 1969 Modern Methods in Scientific Computing and Applications Anne Bourlioux, Martin Gander, 2012-12-06 When we first heard in the spring of 2000 that the Seminaire de mathematiques superieures SMS was interested in devoting its session of the summer of 2001 its 40th to scientific computing the idea of taking on the organizational work seemed to us somewhat remote More immediate things were on our minds one of us was about to go on leave to the Courant Institute the other preparing for a research summer in Paris But the more we learned about the possibilities of such a seminar the support for the organization and also the great history of the SMS the more we grew attached to the project The topics we planned to cover were intended to span a wide range of theoretical and practical tools for solving problems in image processing thin films mathematical finance electrical engineering moving interfaces and combustion These applications alone show how wide the influence of scientific computing has become over the last two decades almost any area of science and engineering is greatly influenced by simulations and the SMS workshop in this field came very timely We decided to organize the workshop in pairs of speakers for each of the eight topics we had chosen and we invited the leading experts worldwide in these fields We were very fortunate that every speaker we invited accepted to come so the program could be realized as planned Modern Techniques in Computational Chemistry: MOTECC-91 E. Clementi, 1991-07-31 Reliable Engineering Computing, Lecture Notes in Data Engineering, Computational Intelligence, and Decision Making Sergii Babichev, Volodymyr Lytvynenko, 2022-09-13 This book contains of 39 scientific papers which include the results of research regarding the current directions in the fields of data mining machine learning and decision making This book is devoted to current problems of artificial and computational intelligence including decision making systems Collecting analysis and processing information are the current directions of modern computer science Development of new modern information and computer technologies for data analysis and processing in various fields of data mining and machine learning create the conditions for increasing effectiveness of the information processing by both the decrease of time and the increase of accuracy of the data processing The papers are divided in terms of their topic into three sections The first section Analysis and Modeling of Hybrid Systems and Processes contains of 11 papers and the second section Theoretical and Applied Aspects of Decision Making Systems contains of 11 ones too There are 17 papers in the third section Data Engineering Computational Intelligence and Inductive Modeling The book is focused to scientists and developers in the fields of data mining machine learning and decision making systems The Finite Element Method for Engineers Kenneth H. Huebner, Donald L. Dewhurst, Douglas E. Smith, Ted G. Byrom, 2001-09-07 A useful balance of theory applications and real world examples The Finite Element Method for Engineers Fourth Edition presents a clear easy to understand explanation of finite element fundamentals and enables readers to use the method in research and in solving practical real life problems It develops the basic finite element method mathematical formulation beginning with physical considerations proceeding to the well established variation approach and placing a strong emphasis on the versatile method of weighted residuals which has shown itself to be important in nonstructural applications The authors demonstrate the tremendous power of the finite element method to solve problems that classical methods cannot handle including elasticity problems general field problems heat transfer problems and fluid mechanics problems They supply practical information on boundary conditions and mesh generation and they offer a fresh perspective on finite element analysis with an overview of the current state of finite element optimal design Supplemented with numerous real world problems and examples taken directly from the authors experience in industry and research The Finite Element Method for Engineers Fourth Edition gives readers the real insight needed to apply the method to challenging problems and to reason out solutions that cannot be found in any textbook

Modern Techniques in Computational Chemistry Enrico Clementi, 1989 In a way the MOTECC 89 project started in the early sixties at the IBM Research Laboratory in San Jose California The six years of post doctoral research first with Giulio Natta on conductive polymers with Michael Kasha on spin orbit effects with Kenneth S Pitzer on high temperature molecules and thermo dynamics and with R S Mulliken in the quantum chemistry of small molecules had demonstrated pragmatically the importance of a broad based research and also let me taste some of the excitement to be derived from interdisciplinarity Thus when I started to gather a department in the newly opened IBM Research Laboratory in San Jose California I purposely named it Large Scale Scientific Computation Department avoiding reference to chemistry physics statistical mechanics or fluid dynamics which were our main tasks In the sixties interdisciplinarity was more and more recognized as a most important if not necessary avenue to cope with the technical needs of our society However at that time interdisciplinarity was synonymous with team work and true interdisciplinarity was a formidably difficult objective Although I headed an excellent group of scientists with different backgrounds and there was much progress and creativity still each one of us was more or less conducting his own research in his own field with occasional cross field partnerships and with some of the computational techniques as our common base Later in 1974 I made a second attempt this time starting a new department at the Donegani Institute Montedison in Novara Italy
