Losing Our Language

Jessie Ellen Cadell

Losing Our Language:

Losing Our Language Sandra Stotsky, 2002 This book argues that it is the incorporation of a multicultural agenda into basal readers the primary tool for teaching reading in elementary schools that has stunted American children's ability to read The book shows how basal readers have been systematically dumbed down in an effort to raise minority students' self-esteem It contends that while elementary readers of the past featured excerpts from classic stories such as Arabian Nights and Robinson Crusoe with a complex vocabulary and sentence structure able to challenge the imagination and build reading skills today's basal readers present students with politically and ethnically correct stories whose language is virtually foreign and unable to engage students According to the book drawing words from Swahili Spanglish and other trendy dialects to teach students with a shrinking English vocabulary is a symptom of this intellectual and cultural disorder The book showcases interviews with teachers gives an in-depth analysis of reading texts over the past 30 years and talks about how pressure groups have affected educational publishers It points out that literacy cultural and verbal gives all students but particularly those from poor or minority backgrounds personal independence and achievement and the ability to participate fully in civic life Each of the 11 chapters includes notes NKA Living Our Language Anton Treuer, 2001 A language carries a people's memories whether they are recounted as individual reminiscences as communal history or as humorous tales In Living our language Anton Treuer has collected stories from ten Anishinaabe Ojibwe elders living on the Leech Lake White Earth Mille Lacs Red Lake and St Croix Reservations presenting their words here in the original Ojibwe with English translations on the facing page Treuer introduces each elder offering a brief biography and noting important details concerning dialect or themes then he allows the stories to speak for themselves Taken together these stories offer the gift of a living language and the history of a people Page 4 of printed paper wrapper Bringing Our Languages Home Leanne Hinton, 2013-03-01 Thirteen personal accounts of endangered language preservation plus a how to guide for parents looking to do the same in their own home Throughout the world individuals in the intimacy of their homes innovate improvise and struggle daily to pass on endangered languages to their children Elaina Albers of Northern California holds a tape recorder up to her womb so her baby can hear old songs in Karuk The Baldwin family of Montana put labels all over their house marked with the Miami words for common objects and activities to keep the vocabulary present and fresh In Massachusetts at the birth of their first daughter Jesse Little Doe Baird and her husband convince the obstetrician and nurses to remain silent so that the first words their baby hears in this world are Wampanoag Thirteen autobiographical accounts of language revitalization ranging from Irish Gaelic to Mohawk Kawaiisu to Maori are brought together by Leanne Hinton professor emerita of linguistics at UC Berkeley who for decades has been leading efforts to preserve the rich linguistic heritage of the world Those seeking to save their language will find unique instruction in these pages everyone who admires the human spirit will find abundant inspiration Languages featured Anishinaabemowin Hawaiian Irish Karuk Kawaiisu Kypriaka Maori Miami Mohawk Scottish
