Lost in Space Greg Klerkx, 2005-01-11 The daring revolutionary NASA that sent Neil Armstrong to the moon has lost its meteoric vision says journalist and space enthusiast Greg Klerkx NASA he contends has devolved from a pioneer of space exploration into a factionalized bureaucracy focused primarily on its own survival And as a result humans haven t ventured beyond Earth orbit for three decades Klerkx argues that after its wildly successful Apollo program NASA clung fiercely to the spotlight by creating a government sheltered monopoly with a few Big Aerospace companies Although committed in theory to supporting commercial spaceflight in practice it smothered vital private sector innovation In striking descriptions of space milestones spanning the golden 1960s Space Age and the 2003 Columbia tragedy Klerkx exposes the real NASA and envisions exciting public private cooperation that could send humans back to the moon and beyond

Lost in Space Marleen S. Barr, 2017-11-01 Archaeologists and anthropologists discover other civilizations science fiction writers invent them In this collection of her major essays Marleen Barr argues that feminist science fiction writers contribute to postmodern literary canons with radical alternatives to mainstream patriarchal society Because feminist science fiction challenges male centered social imperatives it has been marginalized and dismissed from the canon thus lost in space Moving beyond feminist science fiction itself Barr goes on to examine other literary genres from the perspective of feminist fabulation a term she has coined to encompass science fiction fantasy utopian literature and mainstream literature that critiques patriarchal fictions Discussing the works of such writers as Margaret Atwood Joanna Russ Salman Rushdie Paul Theroux Ursula Le Guin Herman Melville Saul Bellow Edgar Allan Poe and Marge Piercy Barr illuminates feminist science fiction s connections to other literary traditions and contemporary canons Her critical analysis yields a new and expanded understanding of feminist creativity Lost in Space: Return to Yesterday Kevin Emerson, 2019-11-19 A thrilling original novel based on Netflix's smash hit Lost in Space. Complete box sets of all 3 seasons and the original pilot film of the original TV series have been released on DVD in South America North America Europe and Australia. Lost in Space is a science fiction TV series created and produced by Irwin Allen, filmed by 20th Century Fox Television and broadcast on CBS. The show ran for three seasons with 83 episodes airing between September 15, 1965 and March 6, 1968. The first TV season was filmed in black and white but the remainder were filmed in color. In 1998 a Lost in Space movie based on the TV series was released. Though the TV series concept centered on the Robinson family, many story lines focused primarily on Dr. Zachary Smith, Jonathan Harris, who is a medical doctor, originally an utterly evil would-be killer who became a sympathetic anti-hero by the end of the first season, providing comic relief to the TV show and causing most of the episodic conflict. Smith was not in the unaired pilot and neither was the robot. A meteor storm which should have smashed the ship to pieces in the unaired pilot put them off course. In the first aired episode, Smith's unplanned for extra 200 lbs of weight put them off course so that they encountered the meteors. In the un-aired version they were going at such a relatively slow speed that they wondered if they were on Mars. In the pilot, just seconds of hyper-drive and they were lost, unknown light years from Earth. The first appearance of a space-faring Robinson family unrelated to the series Robinsons was in a comic book published by Gold Key Comics, The Space Family Robinson in Lost in Space.
