Population Problem:

Twenty-two Dimensions of the Population Problem Lester Russell Brown, Patricia L. McGrath, Bruce Stokes, 1976 The authors have chosen 22 areas in which population pressure has serious implications from literacy and deforestation to unemployment and individual freedom The population problem Arthur McCormack, 1970 The Population Problem Alexander Morris Carr-Saunders, 1922 Population Problems in the United States and Canada American Statistical Association, 1926 The "Population Problem" in Pacific Asia Stuart Gietel-Basten, 2019-06-07 China's one child policy as well as policies to increase fertility in east Asia are well known population issues The Population Problem in Pacific Asia explores why fertility is so low why China's fertility is likely to stay low and what governments might be able to do to both improve the population situation in their countries and simultaneously better people's lives Population Problems of the Pacific Stephen Henry Roberts, 1927 Public Health Service Publication, 1971 Readings in Social Problems Albert Benedict Wolfe, 1916 Problems of the Pacific John Bell Condliffe, 1928 An Evaluation and Assessment of the State of the Science, 1991 The New Population Problem Alan Booth, Ann C. Crouter, 2005-05-06 This volume focuses on the phenomenon of lower fertility rates occurring in the developed world It explores the factors that influence couples decisions on the number of children they will have and what are the long term consequences of declining fertility

The American Race Problem: A Study of the Negro Edward Byron Reuter, 1927 How Many Children? Ann Cartwright, 2024-04-01 Ann Cartwright's book Parents and Family Planning Services 1970 had become a classic in its field Originally published in 1976 How Many Children Dr Cartwright's study of family size and spacing in England and Wales in 1973 is again based on detailed research and analysis and upon interviews with the mothers and fathers of a random sample of legitimate births in England and Wales Ann Cartwright discusses the extent to which people have firm intentions about their family structure and the factors which may affect these intentions work housing economic situation marital relationships and family roles She describes the part played by contraception abortion and birth control services in people's achievement of their intentions A major interest of the study is in changes over time It attempts to throw some light on the falling birth rate and the relative contributions to this decline of desires for smaller families different spacing patterns and the use of more effective methods of birth control Comparisons are made with the earlier study Parents and Family Planning Services and a fascinating conundrum emerges in the later study parents were using more effective methods of birth control but the proportion of unintended pregnancies had not declined Possible explanations for this are discussed Beyond Malthus Lester Russell Brown, Gary T. Gardner, Brian Halweil, 1998 This study looks at 16 dimensions or effects of population growth in order to gain a better perspective on how future population trends are likely to affect the human prospect The evidence gathered here indicates that the rapid population growth prevailing in a majority of the world's countries is not going to continue much longer Either countries will get their act together shifting quickly to smaller families or death rates will rise from one or more stresses such as AIDS ethnic conflicts or water shortages The sixteen topics are grain production fresh water biodiversity climate change oceanic fish catch jobs cropland forests housing energy urbanization natural recreation areas education waste meat production and income Excerpt Applied Ethics S.D. Chamola,2017-01-10 Applied ethics is a field of ethics that deals with ethical questions specific to a professional disciplinary or practical field There is ample literature available on ethics but there is scarcity of literature as how to apply the principles of ethics in solving the problems of contemporary world The main objective of the book is how to apply principles and theories of ethics in day to day life in our ordinary business of life There are numerous dimensions of ethics but it is not possible to discuss all of them Some important subsets of applied ethics are discussed in the book First what are the principles of ethics and how ethics is associated with religion law science and technology Second the present world is facing grave issues such as climate change population explosion Corruption and violence globalisation problems etc How these issues can be resolved ethically Third all the countries of the world are engaged in rapid economic development of their economies How this can be done ethically The main aim behind this book is that the Individuals Societies Corporations Countries and the entire world should be run on ethical lines This alone will endure happiness and well being of all Population Problems Warren Simpson Thompson,David T. Lewis,1965 This book aims to present the most important facts relating to population in a form that is readily understandable by both the nonspecialized college student to whom it is primarily addressed and the lay reader interested in learning the significance of population growth and changes as factors influencing many aspects of our daily life in today s world However some change has been made in the amount of space devoted to the various aspects of population changes Composition of the population has received considerably more attention There is also a somewhat expanded discussion of population policies which are rapidly becoming of concern to all people School Building Problems George Drayton Strayer,Nickolaus Louis Engelhardt,1927 The African Problem and the Peace Settlement Edmund Dene Morel,1917 The Canadian Teacher ... Gideon E.
