Perverse Spectators:

Perverse Spectators Janet Staiger, 2000-07 Film and television have never been more prevalent or watched than they are now yet we still have little understanding of how people process and make use of what they see And though we acknowledge the enormous role the media plays in our culture we have only a vague sense of how it actually influences our attitudes and desires In Perverse Spectators Janet Staiger argues that studying the interpretive methods of spectators within their historical contexts is both possible and necessary to understand the role media plays in culture and in our personal lives This analytical approach is applied to topics such as depictions of violence the role of ratings codes the horror and suspense genre historical accuracy in film and sexual identities and then demonstrated through works like JFK The Silence of the Lambs The Texas Chain Saw Massacre Psycho and A Clockwork Orange Each chapter shows a different approach to reconstructing audience responses to films consistently and ingeniously finding traces of what would otherwise appear to be unrecoverable information Using vivid examples charting key concepts and offering useful syntheses of long standing debates Perverse Spectators constitutes a compelling case for a reconsideration of the assumptions about film reception which underlie contemporary scholarship in media studies Taking on widely influential theories and scholars Perverse Spectators is certain to spark controversy and help redefine the study of film as it enters the new millennium

Hollywood Incoherent Todd Berliner, 2010-10-01 Most books about American film in the 1970s tell stories about iconoclastic auteurs working in the shadow of the Vietnam War Stepping away from this tradition Todd Berliner gives us a bold and compelling study of the strange paradoxical narrative style of seventies films which seemed to flout the canonical structure of the well made film Berliner sheds new light on a well studied period His lively prose and the delight he takes in explicating the classics of that era make this book a real pleasure to read Stephen Prince Professor of Cinema at Virginia Tech and author of Firestorm American Film in the Age of Terrorism The wave of innovative filmmaking that surged in 1970s Hollywood has come to be cherished as dearly by many cineastes as the earlier golden age of studio filmmaking American filmmaking of this period has been much discussed in relation to the crisis of the film industry and the sociopolitical currents of the time Todd Berliner s important study focuses on what is usually taken for granted in such work the form texture and tone of the films themselves and the experiences that they create for spectators His exacting and wide ranging study explores the interplay between narrative unity and incongruity as it is manifested in different ways in acknowledged classics directed by Coppola Friedkin Scorsese and Cassavetes as well as in many less well known films Berliner also shows how these films have had a lasting impact on Hollywood filmmaking Hollywood Incoherent provides the sustained and systematic exploration of the aesthetics of the Hollywood Renaissance that the films deserve and the field of film studies needs Murray Smith Professor of Film Studies University of Kent

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory Edward Branigan, Warren Buckland, 2013-12-04 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an international reference work representing the essential ideas and concepts at the centre of film theory from the beginning of the twentieth century to the beginning of the twenty first When first encountering film theory students are often confronted with a dense interlocking set of texts full of arcane terminology inexact formulations sliding definitions and abstract generalities The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory challenges these first impressions by aiming to make film theory accessible and open to new readers Edward Branigan and Warren Buckland have commissioned over 50 scholars from around the globe to address the difficult formulations and propositions in each theory by reducing these difficult formulations to straightforward propositions The result is a highly accessible volume that clearly defines and analyzes step by step many of the fundamental concepts in film theory ranging from familiar concepts such as Apparatus Gaze Genre and Identification to less well known and understood but equally important concepts such as Alain Badiou s Inaesthetics Gilles Deleuze s Time Image and Jean Luc Nancy s Evidence The Routledge Encyclopedia of Film Theory is an ideal reference book for undergraduates of film studies as well as graduate students new to the discipline

Adaptation Christina Wilkins, 2022-08-04 This book explores the impact of the body on the mediation of character in adaptations Specifically it thinks about how identity is shaped by the body and how this alters meanings of adaptations With an increasingly digital world the importance of the body may be seen as diminishing However the book highlights the different political and social meanings the body signifies which in turn renders character Through a discussion of adaptations of sexuality race and mental difference the mediation of character is shown to be tied to the physical The book challenges the hierarchies in place both for the understanding of character which privileges the actor and in adaptations which privileges the original The discussion of the body character and adaptation asserts that the meanings the physical has in its shaping of and by character in adaptations reflect the way in which we position our own bodies in the world Traveling Spectators Amy Lynn Corbin, 2009 The Place of the Audience Mark Jancovich, Lucy Faire, Sarah Stubbings, 2003-04-28 It has been a recurring complaint both within and against film studies that it has largely ignored the activities of audiences This book aims to address this absence as compared to television studies and to explain its cause The authors argue that there is a social context in which the consumption of film can be understood or studied historically demonstrating that a concentration on the place of film consumption within the changing cultural politics of the city can offer a compelling and productive focus of analysis This book examines not only the different meanings of different sites of film exhibition and distribution city centre cinemas local cinemas art house cinemas multiplexes terrestrial television transmission video rental and retail and satellite cable but also the meanings of the activities of film consumption associated with these sites Through use of archival materials and ethnographic studies of the audience the book examines the meanings of film consumption from the earliest film showings up to the 21st century Iconographies of Power Ulla Haselstein, Berndt Ostendorf, Peter Schneck, 2003 Today the question of iconography has taken on a new and more general urgency As a dominant cultural practice iconography embraces the politics as well as the poetics of visual representation within their specific historical and cultural conditions In its contemporary significance the question of iconography moreover reaches beyond disciplinary boundaries of conventional definitions and interpretations of the relation between words and images in a demand to critically compare and contrast their different iconographies as cultural practices of power In their distinct arguments and from different perspectives the essays collected in this volume are all similarly concerned with the iconographical power and poetics of the image including a broad range of visual representations prints and illustrations painting sculpture and concept art documentary and art photography film comedy and digital imagery In all these instances the image is looked at not as an exclusive and isolated phenomenon but rather emphatically as a visual and contextual event as both the source and target of the collision and the collusion of word and image as instances and symptoms of contemporary iconographic practice alike With contributions by Winfried Fluck Mario Klarer Mick Gidley Douglas Tallack Heinz Ickstadt Peter Schneck Maren Stange Hanne Loreck Zsofia Ban Susanne v Falkenhausen Deniz Gokturk Wendy Steiner Hanjo Berressem Kaja Silverman Michael
