Primera Memoria:

Reflection in Sequence Sandra J. Schumm, 1999-07 The codes of conduct imposed on females by Spain's dictator Francisco Franco after the Spanish Civil War 1936-39 created a stifling environment for women until his death in 1975. Beginning with Carmen Laforet's 1944 Nadal Prize winning novel Nada, novels by women many of which explore female identity began to proliferate in Spain. The works examined in this study: Primera memoria 1960 by Ana María Matute, La placa del Diamante 1962 by Merce Rodoreda, Julia 1969 by Ana María Moix, El cuarto de atrás 1978 by Carmen Martín Gaité, El amor es un juego solitario 1979 by Esther Tusquets, and Questio d amor propi 1987 by Carme Riera feature female protagonists struggling for self-realization and by extension for change in a restrictive Spanish society. Schumm's analysis of the seven novels demonstrates how examination of metaphoric tropes and mirror images provides insight into the protagonists' development.

Women in Hispanic Literature Beth Kurti Miller, 1983-01-01 White Ink Stephen M. Hart, 1993 Essays on motifs employed in women's novels from Spain and Latin America between 1936 and the present. An analysis of the use made of five structuring devices or motifs: the Bildungsroman, the patriarchal prison, the fairy tale, sexual politics, and gender trouble in a selection of representative women's novels from Spain and Latin America written between 1936 and the present. STEPHEN M. HART is Reader in the Department of Spanish and Latin American Studies at University College London.

Primera memoria Ana María Matute, 1960 Novela que se centra en la indagación apasionada del mundo de la adolescencia. La protagonista huérfana queda bajo la tutela de una abuela exigente y despectiva y ha de realizar su aprendizaje de la vida en soledad.

Spanish Women Writers and Spain's Civil War Maryellen Bieder, Roberta Johnson, 2016-12-01 The Spanish Civil War 1936-1939 pitted conservative forces including the army, the Church, the Falange fascist party, landowners, and industrial capitalists against the Republic installed in 1931 and supported by intellectuals, the petite bourgeoisie, many campesinos, farm laborers, and the urban proletariat. Provoking heated passions on both sides, the Civil War soon became an international phenomenon that inspired a number of literary works reflecting the impact of the war on foreign and national writers. While the literature of the period has been the subject of scholarship, women's literary production has not been studied as a body of work in the same way that literature by men has been, and its unique features have not been examined. Addressing this lacuna in literary studies, this volume provides fresh perspectives on well-known women writers as well as less-studied ones whose works take the Spanish Civil War as a theme. The authors represented in this collection reflect a wide range of political positions. Writers such as María Zambrano, Mercè Rodoreda, and Josefina Aldecoa were clearly aligned with the Republic, whereas others including Mercedes Salisachs and Liberata Masoliver sympathized with the Nationalists. Most, however, are situated in a more ambiguous political space, although the ethics and character portraits that emerge in their works might suggest Republican sympathies. Taken together, the essays are an important contribution to scholarship on literature inspired by this pivotal point in Spanish history.

Memory and Trauma in the Postwar Spanish Novel Sarah Leggott, Ross Woods, 2013-12-11 In recent years much Spanish literary criticism has been characterized by debates about collective and historical memory stemming from a national obsession with the past that has seen an explosion of novels and films about the Spanish Civil War and Franco dictatorship This growth of so called memory studies in literary scholarship has focused on the representation of memory and trauma in contemporary narratives dealing with the Civil War and ensuing dictatorship In contrast the novel of the postwar period has received relatively little critical attention of late despite the fact that memory and trauma also feature in different ways and to varying degrees in many works written during the Franco years The essays in this study argue that such novels merit a fresh critical approach and that contemporary scholarship relating to the representation of memory and trauma in literature can enhance our understanding of the postwar Spanish novel The volume opens with essays that engage with aspects of contemporary theoretical approaches to memory in order to reveal the ways in which these are pertinent to Spanish novels written in the first postwar decades with studies on novels by Camilo Jos Cela Carmen Laforet Arturo Barea and Ana Mar a Matute Its second section focuses on the representation of trauma in specific postwar novels drawing on elements from trauma studies scholarship to discuss neglected works by Mercedes Salisachs Dolores Medio and Ignacio Aldecoa The final essays continue the focus on the theme of trauma and revisit works by women writers namely Carmen Laforet Rosa Chacel Ana Mar a Matute and Mar a Zambrano that foreground the experiences of female protagonists who are seeking to deal with a traumatic past The essays in this volume thus propose a new direction for the study of Spanish literature of 1940s 1950s and early 1960s enhancing existing approaches to the postwar Spanish novel through an engagement with contemporary scholarship on memory and trauma in literature
