A Blue New Deal Chris Armstrong,2022-02-22 An urgent account of the state of our oceans today and what we must do to protect them The ocean sustains life on our planet from absorbing carbon to regulating temperatures and as we exhaust the resources to be found on land it is becoming central to the global market But today we are facing two urgent challenges at sea massive environmental destruction and spiraling inequality in the ocean economy Chris Armstrong reveals how existing governing institutions are failing to respond to the most pressing problems of our time arguing that we must do better Armstrong examines these crises from the fate of people whose lands will be submerged by sea level rise to the exploitation of people working in fishing to the rights of marine animals and makes the case for a powerful World Ocean Authority capable of tackling them A Blue New Deal presents a radical manifesto for putting equality democracy and sustainability at the heart of ocean politics

Wild Blue Media Melody Jue,2020-02-28 In Wild Blue Media Melody Jue destabilizes terrestrial based ways of knowing and reorients our perception of the world by considering the ocean itself as a media environment a place where the weight and opacity of seawater transforms how information is created stored transmitted and perceived By recentring media theory on and under the sea Jue calls attention to the differences between perceptual environments and how we think within and through them as embodied observers In doing so she provides media studies with alternatives to familiar theoretical frameworks thereby challenging scholars to navigate unfamiliar oceanic conditions of orientation materiality and saturation Jue not only examines media about the ocean science fiction narratives documentary films ocean data visualizations animal communication methods and underwater art but reexamines media through the ocean submerging media theory underwater to estrange it from terrestrial habits of perception while reframing our understanding of mediation objectivity and metaphor

Decolonial Gestures in Global Health Gerald M. Boodoo, 2026-02-28 Global health care standards have centered white colonial Euro US priorities in research prevention and treatment They have denigrated the needs and resources of colonized populations However calls have been growing to dismantle the enduring colonial structures and attitudes of global health This volume written by healthcare professionals from differing cultures and a range of disciplines hears those calls Rethinking healthcare from a decolonial perspective it suggests what certain aspects of global health could look like Its goal is not just to acknowledge the needs of non Western populations but to pluriversalise the field of global health Suitable for all who are interested in global health whether at the academic or practitioner levels this volume focuses on issues of equity in healthcare from multiple perspectives Desiring to engage all who are curious about decolonizing global health but are not quite sure how to go about it these chapters give theoretical and practical approaches to the problem These are not seen as definitive solutions but as gestures toward creating more just and fair minded practices in global health
