Rosa Raye, Crime Reporter

by Sue Kerman

SUMMARY

Rosa Raye is a young reporter working for a newspaper called 'The Globe'. One day she is offered the job of crime reporter, and she accepts it. She and her boyfriend, Dan, live near the beach, and one day Rosa sees a truck unloading something nasty into the sea. The truck driver threatens her, so she makes a note of the name on the truck and decides to investigate. She discovers that the company that owns the truck is owned by Rudy Fowler, a very rich and dangerous criminal. She arranges an interview with Fowler, to talk about his legitimate company but when she begins to ask questions about his waste disposal company, she only makes him angry.

After Rosa's story about Rudy Fowler's companies is published in 'The Globe', her boyfriend, Dan's restaurant is wrecked as a warning to her to stop her investigation. She tells her boss, Sid, and he suggests that she takes a vacation. She agrees but on the plane she is kidnapped by a man with a gun. She is locked in a room in a house and tied to a bed. There are three men guarding her. But someone throws a hand grenade through the window of the room, and Rosa uses it to escape with the help of Dan and Sid. Back at home, Sid explains that the rabbit's foot he had given her was a radio transmitter, so that he knew where she was when she touched it. Rudy Fowler was arrested at the house and is put on trial for polluting the oceans. At the trial, Rudy believes that he will escape punishment as he has done every time before, because he has rich and powerful friends. But this time he has made a mistake. He is sentenced to 20 years in prison for his crimes, thanks to Rosa Raye's investigation.

BACKGROUND AND THEMES

There are a number of themes underlying the story. The first is the struggle of a young woman to make a career in a man's world. She is vulnerable and inexperienced and her boyfriend doesn't approve of what she is doing, but she is determined to investigate her story and find out who is responsible for polluting the oceans. In this way she earns the respect and support of both her boss and her boyfriend. Eventually, in spite of being threatened with death, she triumphs and the criminal is finally sent to prison. The underdog, the powerless woman triumphs over the big criminal organization.

The second theme is that of pollution of the environment by big corporations, unchallenged by the government or the police. Waste disposal, in the story, is run by criminal organizations because they can make a lot of money by not treating the waste properly but simply dumping it in the sea. At a time when pollution and global warming are very near the top of the political agenda in most countries, the fight of one person against the criminals who are polluting the environment is one which is guaranteed to get the sympathy of the reader. Rosa Raye manages to speak to the head of the criminal organization and provoke him into anger and revenge. In desperation, he has her kidnapped, but with the help of her friends, she manages to escape, and the criminal is sent to prison. Eventually, right conquers might.

Finally, there is the relationship between men and women. The two men in Rosa's life, her boss Sid and her boyfriend Dan, both believe that they can control her life and also that she might not be very good at her chosen job of crime reporter. At one point, Dan tells Rosa that she has to choose between him and her job. In the end, both men realize that Rosa is very good at her job and should carry on with it.
