Modern Predicament A Study In The Philos:

The Modern Predicament Herbert James Paton, 1955 The Modern Predicament Olive Banks, 1955 The Modern Predicament H.J. Paton, 2014-04-04 This is Volume IX in a series of twelve on Ethics Originally published in 1955 this is a collection of works the philosophy of religion that four Forwood Lectures on the philosophy of religion which were delivered in the University of Liverpool in 1949 It developed into two series of Gifford Lectures given in the University of St Andrews in the years 1950 and 1951 Studies in the Philosophy of Kierkegaard E.D. Klemke, 2012-12-06 In this volume I have given attention to what I consider to be some of the central problems and topics in the philosophical thought of Søren Kierkegaard Some of the chapters have been previously published but were revised for their appearance here Others were written expressly for this book I have tried to focus on issues which have not been customarily dealt with or emphasized in the scholarship on Kierkegaard with the exception of the writings of David Swenson and Paul L Holmer to which and to whom I am greatly indebted Some of the positions for which I have argued in this volume especially in Chapters IV and V may be controversial I am grateful to all those who enabled me to carry out or influenced me in my studies of Kierkegaard or who assisted with regard to the research for or preparation of this volume Among these are Professors Paul L Holmer F Arthur Jacobson and Dennis A Rohatyn Dean Wallace A Russell and Vice President Daniel J Zaffarano of Iowa State University The modern Predicament Herbert J. Paton, 1962 A Fundamental Theological Study of Radical Secularization and its Aftermath Alpo Penttinen, 2024-01-17 In the wake of various secularization processes a growing number of people in Western societies are now describing themselves as non religious But what does this sociological fact really mean for the Church and for society at large Has human religiosity a future after secularization It does this book argues but in a radically altered form Taking its cue from Pope Francis's suggestion that globalizing humanity is presently living through a genuine epochal shift this book presents an original analysis of the transformative effect of secularization on our spiritual predicament in the Western now definitively post Christian world Instead of succumbing to the all too common polarizations in contemporary religious discourse this book aspires to overcome the religious vs secular dichotomy through developing the logic of Radical Secularization arguably the genuine novelty of the particularly Western process of secularization The past homogeneously religious culture is certainly dusking but this only paves the way for the dawn of the future and radically open horizon for our human search for meaning This challenging book will offer intellectual impulses and spiritual incentives to everybody who ponders the future of human religious evolution after secularization Studies in the Philosophy of Kierkegaard NA Klemke, 2013-11-11 In this volume I have given attention to what I consider to be some of the central problems and topics in the philosophical thought of Søren Kierkegaard Some of the chapters have been previously published but were revised for their appearance here Others were written expressly for this book I have tried to focus on issues which have not been customarily dealt with or emphasized in the scholarship on Kierkegaard with the exception of the writings of David Swenson and Paul L Holmer to which and to whom I am greatly indebted Some of the positions for which I have argued in this volume especially in Chapters IV and V may be controversial I am grateful to all those who enabled me to carry out or influenced me in my studies of Kierkegaard or who assisted with regard to the research for or preparation of this volume Among these are Professors Paul L Holmer F Arthur Jacobson and Dennis A Rohatyn Dean Wallace A Russell and Vice President Daniel J Zaffarano of Iowa State University

Dictionary of Twentieth-Century British Philosophers Stuart Brown,2005-06-01 This is a two volume work with entries on individuals who made some contribution to philosophy in the period 1900 to 1960 or soon after The entries deal with the whole philosophical work of an individual or in the case of philosophers still living their whole work to date Typically the individuals included have been born by 1935 and by now have made their main contributions Contributions to the subject typically take the form of books or journal articles but influential teachers and people otherwise important in the world of philosophy may also be included The dictionary includes amateurs as well as professional philosophers and where appropriate thinkers whose main discipline was outside philosophy There are special problems about the term British in the twentieth century partly because of human migration partly because of decolonialization and the changing denotation of the term The intention has been to include not only those who were British subjects at least for a significant part of their lives even if they mostly lived outside what is now the U K but also people who spent a significant part of their lives in Britain itself irrespective of their nationality or country of origin In the first category are included for instance a number of people who were born and educated in Britain but who subsequently taught in universities abroad In the second category are included those who were born elsewhere but who came to Britain and contributed to its philosophical culture
