Modification Of The Aerial Environment Of Plants:

Modification of the Aerial Environment of Plants Billy J. Barfield, John Francis Gerber, 1979-01-01 Modification of the Aerial Environment of Plants ASAE Monograph B J. Barfield, J F. Gerber, 1979 Plant Production and Management under Drought Conditions J.F. Stone, W.O. Willis, 2012-12-02 For some years workers have been investigating the possibilities of integrating knowledge from soil and atmospheric sciences crop physiology and genetics in order to model crop response to water stress and breed plants for drought resistance This book turns the theory into practice Information gathered from recent symposia and research journals have been built upon by the authors Up to date practices are cited new practices devised and approaches for scientific applications specified The authors have devised numerous examples and applications for their approaches Attention has been given to making these approaches credible in the light of economic and energy limitations Because application of such practice over a wide area requires wide areal sensing and measurement recent advances in remote sensing for these purposes are outlined with methodology for practical application The book will be of interest to a wide readership including crop managers and producers soil scientists agricultural micrometeorologists plant breeders water managers and stress physiologists

Energy in Farm Production R.C. Fluck, 2012-12-02 This last volume of the Energy in World Agriculture series is in many ways the series Alpha and its Omega It addresses the broad issues related to the use of energy in agricultural production and also characterizes and quantifies the energy involvements of many agricultural production technologies It is a compilation of descriptive and analytical information and design principles and data of energy use in this field A significant aspect is the relationship between energy and agricultural productivity increased knowledge and resulting improved management of energy consuming operations on the farm Information provided here has not been published elsewhere before Throughout the book are examples of the important role that energy inputs have played in increasing productivity of the world's agricultural systems Together with a revived interest in energy for agricultural production due to increases in energy costs this volume meets that interest with valuable information and insights

Survival Strategies and Plant Intelligence Manju A. Lal, Ratnum Kaul Wattal, Renu Kathpalia, Vibha G. Checker, 2025-11-21 Traditionally intelligence is associated with the brain until recently our understanding of intelligence in plants was limited However there is a paradigm shift in the traditional perception intelligence is now defined as how quickly and efficiently an organism adapts to its surroundings Plants are good examples here because they constantly respond and adapt to their surroundings This book is a comprehensive study of the scientific literature on intelligent survival strategies of plants Features Provides a scientific basis for the intelligent survival strategies by plants under the changing environment Book content is substantiated with examples of intelligent behavior in plants Comparative account of intelligent behavior in plants with that in animals is also discussed Brief information about some of the scientists working in this field is included The book will serve as a reference book for undergraduate students interested in an introduction to the subject of plant intelligence It will also open up a reservoir of information for post graduate students teachers and researchers by providing insight into this new emerging concept of plant intelligence The book discusses the theoretical and experimental aspects of mechanisms for understanding plant perception and signaling that further demonstrates purposeful behavior and the active decisions made by plants Plants and Microclimate Hamlyn G.
