The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2003

Nation, Region and History in Post-communist Transitions Peter W. Rodgers, 2008

Since independence in 1991, issues of nation and identity have become highly debated topics in Ukraine. This monograph explores not only how national identity is being re-constructed by the Ukrainian state but also the processes by which it is negotiated through society. The central argument of this work is that too much attention concerning identity in Ukraine has focused on markers of ethnicity and language. Instead, the author advocates a regional approach, engaging with the issue of how Ukraine's regional differences affect nation-building processes. Following the tumultuous events of the Orange Revolution, the view of Ukraine as a country inherently divided between East and West has re-emerged to become a popular explanation for political events. The study outlines the necessity for academics, policymakers, and indeed politicians to veer away from this simplistic West versus East divide. The book advocates an analysis of Ukraine's unique brand of regionalism, not in terms of divisions but in terms of regional differences and diversity. The author deconstructs the concept of Eastern Ukraine by focusing on three Ukrainian localities all adjacent to the Ukrainian-Russian border. The study examines how individuals provide their own understanding of the place of their region within the wider processes of nation-building across Ukraine. In doing so, the book develops a regional approach to the study of identity politics in Ukraine.

The Right to Equality in European Human Rights Law Charilaos Nikolaidis, 2014-07-25

A right to equality and non-discrimination is widely seen as fundamental in democratic legal systems. But failure to identify the human interest that equality aims to uphold reinforces the argument of those who attack it as morally empty or unsubstantiated and weakens its status as a fundamental human right. This book argues that an understanding of the human interest which equality aims to uphold is feasible within the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) and the European Court of Justice (ECJ). In comparing the evolution of the prohibition of discrimination in the case law of both Courts, Charilaos Nikolaidis demonstrates that conceptual convergence within the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR) and the EU on the issue of equality is not as far as it might appear initially. While the two bodies of equality law are extremely divergent as to the requirements they impose, their interpretation by the international judiciary might be properly analysed under a common light to emphasise the substantive dimension of equality in European Human Rights law. The book will be of great use and
