Power Participatory Development:

Power and Participatory Development Nici Nelson, Susan Wright, 1995 Power, Empowerment and Participatory Development Faraha Nawaz, 2013 The paper reveals the conceptual links between power empowerment and participatory development Participatory development is deeply rooted with gender issues since participation means inclusion of all kinds of women of the society in to the development process Participatory development is the process of empowerment of marginalized populations especially women since women are the most marginalized and vulnerable group of a society The centre of empowerment is the structure and relations of power in any society Therefore participatory approach must have to ensure transformation of power relations particularly gender power relations which starts with men and then with organizations and institutions The paper concludes with some policy suggestions to undertake appropriate participatory development policy approach

Power, Process and Participation Rachel Slocum, 1995 Offers innovative accessible tools to enable facilitators to empower those people who are frequently omitted from decision making processes Focuses on participatory capacity building in ways that address the practical needs and strategic interests of the disadvantaged and disempowered Also examines how differences in class ethnicity race cast religion age and status can also lead to the politics of exclusion

Participation Samuel Hickey, 2004-10 Participatory techniques have established themselves in both project implementation in developing countries and community interventions in industrial countries Recently participation has been fashionably dismissed as more rhetoric than substance and subject to manipulation by agents pursuing their own agendas under cover of community consent In this important new volume development and other social policy scholars and practitioners seek to rebut this simplistic conclusion They show how participation can help produce genuine transformation for marginalized communities This volume is the first comprehensive attempt to evaluate the state of participatory approaches in the aftermath of the Tyranny critique It captures the recent convergence between participatory development and participatory governance It revisits the question of popular agency as well as spanning the range of institutional actors involved the state civil society and donor agencies The volume embeds participation within contemporary advances in development theory

Undercurrent Journal: Vol. 11, Issue 2 (Summer 2015) [COLOR] Christie McLeod (Editor-In-Chief), 2015-07-06 Undercurrent is the only student run national undergraduate journal publishing scholarly essays and articles that explore the subject of international development The journal is a refereed publication dedicated to providing a non partisan supportive yet critical and competitive forum exclusively for undergraduate research writing and editing

Encyclopedia of International Development Tim Forsyth, 2018-10-24 International development is now a major global activity and the focus of the rapidly growing academic discipline of development studies The Encyclopedia of International Development provides definitions and discussions of the key concepts controversies and actors associated with international development for a readership of development workers teachers and students With 600 entries ranging in length from shorter factual studies to more in depth essays a comprehensive system of cross references and a full index it is the most definitive guide to international development yet published Development is more than a simple increase in a country's wealth and living conditions It also implies increasing people's choices and freedoms it is change that is inclusive and empowering Development theory and practice has important applications to questions of economic growth trade governance education healthcare gender rights and environmental protection and it involves issues such as international aid peacekeeping famine relief and strategies against HIV AIDS The Encyclopedia treats these topics and many more and provides critical analyses of important actors within development such as the United Nations and World Bank non governmental organizations and corporations Contributors to this volume reflect the multidisciplinary and international nature of the subject They come from social science disciplines such as economics international studies political science and anthropology and from specialities such as medicine This Encyclopedia provides crucial information for universities students and professional organizations involved with international development and those interested in related topics such as international studies or other studies of social and economic change today

Power, Politics, and Rural Development Georges Kristoffel Lieten, 2003 Based on fifteen years of intensive anthropological and sociological fieldwork this book presents provocative insights in the daily life of men and women in various villages of India The topics dealt with are varied as also important and policy relevant The author deals with the propensity of the village panchayats and their actual working in Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal the impact of land reforms on development the causes of the high human development index in Kerala communalism at the village level the views of poor villagers on the post modernist views on development child labour and family views on children as capital and with the changing world view in relation to religion caste and the position of women The author deals with these issues drawing on a multifaceted background taking care at the same time that the views of the villagers and their daily concerns come through as the principal empirical evidence

Participation and Social Learning in Church-based Organizations Peter Obele Abue, 2007 Developing countries are increasingly faced with the lack of alternative institutions to counter the social processes entrenched in local settings that lead to poverty In this book the author investigates the potentials of Churchbased organizations CBOs as alternative mechanisms and suggests a communitarian approach to poverty eradication as a back up to the past and present approaches offered by modernism and post modernism respectively Both the upcoming theory of Social Learning and the age old principle of Participation are used as a theoretical framework with empirical data from the diocese of Ogoja Nigeria The author investigates key research questions such as How do churches learn to build on the capacity of individuals and groups as stakeholders that influence poverty eradication at the local level How do Churches as organizations learn to become social change agents This book enunciates a new dimension to the development discourse and the ongoing fight against poverty and it is highly recommended for scholars of international development in their effort to proffer a holistic solution to the problem of poverty and its eradication The third approach to poverty according to the author is a communitarian approach that examines the organizational dynamics of a diocese in relation to the Social Justice Agenda of the Roman Catholic Church I recommend this book to pastors of churches local church communities and their leaders both in developed and developing countries who seek a sincere approach to sustainable development Most Rev Dr John E Ayah Catholic Bishop of Ogoja Nigeria In this book the author ascribes another perspective to poverty eradication by focusing on social praxis thus giving a practical dimension to the role of religion especially for communities in developing countries As a scientist I recommend this book to researchers in general in a quest for the meaning of development Derek Cabrera PhD in Human Ecology Cornell University Ithaca NY USA The Chittagong University Journal of Social Science ,2013

Handbook of Feminist Research Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber,2007 The topic feminist research has too often been neglected in standard research methods books The Handbook of Feminist Research represents the establishment of a new tradition or paradigm in viewing how the research process is implemented Feminist researchers bring unique epistemological and methodological perspectives to the research process Feminists approach to methodology allows for new types of questions about women s lives and those of other ed marginalized groups to be addressed within their respective fields of research This Handbook stresses the interconnections between epistemology methodology and methods They are not de linked from each other but work together in dynamic ways to produce new knowledge and this openness itself is also characteristic of how feminist researchers approach their work Feminists engage synergistically with all three aspects of the research process epistemology methodology and method Through a synergistic connection between these elements of research epistemology methodology and method we find that feminist research often shapes new research endeavors that are greater than the sum of their parts In other words while traditional research employs these components of research the synergistic engagement of these components in feminist research questions the status quo aiming to raise our consciousness about how we do research Looking at the selections provided in this Handbook we are able to look at feminist research its implementation of synergistic use of epistemology methodology and method and the resulting qualities of feminist research in practice Development Dilemma, Indian Scenario and Rural Himalaya Nehal A. Farooquee,1997 Analyses Current Conventional Development Theory Linking The Present Problems And Environmental Destruction Explores The Socio Economic Situation In The Himalayan Areas And Exams The Extent Of Crisis 8 Chapters References Development Hegemony Sangeeta Kamat,2002 This book deals with the current debates in South Aisa on the role of the state and the non government organizations in the development process and in fostering democratic principles It is a critique of the grassroots development in India over the past few decades Participation, Development and Social Structure Bazlul M. Karim,1994-04-26 M Bazlul Karim surveys the problems and prospects of participatory development involving the primarily rural poor in developing countries The case study focuses exclusively on Bangladesh with considerable emphasis on theoretical and comparative analysis as well The author uses Weberian notion of social stratification as the theoretical guidance in examining the nature of inequalities in wealth status and power These stratification variables are examined in depth in regard to various types of participation participation in development programs social participation and political participation Political Economy of Development Ataul Huq Pramanik,2007
