SUMMARY

The goal of this paper is to investigate the application of parallel programming techniques to boost performance of heuristic search-based planning systems in various aspects. It shows that an appropriate parallelization of a sequential planning system often brings gain in performance and/or scalability. We start by describing general schemes for parallelizing the construction of a plan. We then discuss the applications of these techniques to two domain-independent heuristic search based planners—a competitive conformant planner (CPA) and a state-of-the-art classical planner (FF). We present experimental results—on both shared memory and distributed memory platforms—which show that performance improvements and scalability are obtained in both cases. Finally, we discuss the issues that should be taken into consideration when designing a parallel planning system and relate our work to the existing literature.

KEY WORDS: Planning; Reasoning about Actions and Change; Application of Parallelism

1. INTRODUCTION AND MOTIVATION

Planning is the problem of finding a sequence of actions that changes the state of the world from an initial state to a state that satisfies a given set of requirements. Planning is computationally

The Enigmatic Realm of Parallel Processor Systems Technologies And Applications Papers: Unleashing the Language is Inner Magic

In a fast-paced digital era where connections and knowledge intertwine, the enigmatic realm of language reveals its inherent magic. Its capacity to stir emotions, ignite contemplation, and catalyze profound transformations is nothing lacking extraordinary. Within the captivating pages of Parallel Processor Systems Technologies And Applications Papers a literary masterpiece penned by a renowned author, readers set about a transformative journey, unlocking the secrets and untapped potential embedded within each word. In this evaluation, we shall explore the book's core themes, assess its distinct writing style, and delve into its lasting affect the hearts and minds of those who partake in its reading experience.
