Poisoned Peace:

Poisoned Peace Gregor Dallas, 2005 Unlike the Napoleonic Wars and the First World War there was no peace settlement in 1945 The shape of Europe was determined entirely by military force dividing it into two halves which corresponded to neither geography culture nor previous history From the D Day landings to the collapse of Berlin military movements were more and more dominated by separate national ambitions And the Yalta and Potsdam conferences were more recognitions of a fait accompli than agreements on the terms of peace With Gregor Dallas we re live the vast events of the end of the war years in the experience of real people The Birth of the Present opens in Berlin on the day of Hitler s suicide where life such as it existed continued on the roofs in the attics in the streets ruins and cellars of the city We live too with the armies in the field their movements determined by the cycle of seasons and with civilians particularly in booming wartime Washington bombed London liberated Paris annihilated Warsaw doomed Berlin and Moscow gripped by poverty and secret terror The Sins of the Fathers Jeffrey K. Olick, 2016-11-24 National identity and political legitimacy always involve a delicate balance between remembering and forgetting All nations have elements in their past that they would prefer to pass over the catalog of failures injustices and horrors committed in the name of nations if fully acknowledged could create significant problems for a country trying to move on and take action in the present Yet denial and forgetting carry costs as well Nowhere has this precarious balance been more potent or important than in the Federal Republic of Germany where the devastation and atrocities of two world wars have weighed heavily in virtually every moment and aspect of political life The Sins of the Fathers confronts that difficulty head on exploring the variety of ways that Germany s leaders since 1949 have attempted to meet this challenge with a particular focus on how those approaches have changed over time Jeffrey K Olick asserts that other nations are looking to Germany as an example of how a society can confront a dark past casting Germany as our model of difficult collective memory Angola S. Weigert, 2011-10-24 This study is the first comprehensive assessment of warfare in Angola to cover all three phases of the nation s modern history the anti colonial struggle the Cold War phase and the post Cold War era It also covers in detail the final phase of warfare in Angola culminating in Jonas Savimbi s death and the signing of the Luena Accord Rays of Consolation from a Swiss Valley ... Charles Chatelanat, 1877 The Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science, 1908 All Our Yesterdays Henry Major Tomlinson, 1930 1930 Tomlinson was a shipping clerk a journalist a war correspondent a newspaper editor and a travel writer and novelist His subject matter is often natural history or the foolishness of mortals His accounts of the sea travel and the Great War have not been surpassed His antiwar novel All Our Yesterdays begins The traffic of Dockland where my omnibus stopped loosened into a Broadway There the vans and lorries released from the congestion of narrow streets opened out and made speed in an uproar of iron shod wheels and hooves on granite blocks I could hear progress It was on its way It was pouring about in a triumphant muddle of noise too loud to be doubted There was no need to repose on faith in the favored evolution of man That
