Never doubt my love for you. If I'm breathing, I'm loving you. Only you... always you... forever you.

Richard John Samuel Stevens

Never Doubt I Love:

Eight Glee's, expressly composed for Ladies ... Op. iv Richard John Samuel Stevens, 1796 Between Matter and Method Gretchen Bakke, Marina Peterson, 2020-12-01 Building on the lively exchange between anthropology and art that has emerged in recent years Between Matter and Method makes a bold and creative contribution to this rapidly growing field Taking an expansive approach to the arts it finds commonalities in approaches that engage with visual artifacts sound performance improvisation literature dance theater and design The book questions current disciplinary boundaries and offers a new model grounded in a shared methodology for interdisciplinary encounter between art and anthropology Gretchen Bakke and Marina Peterson have gathered together anthropologists whose work is notable for engaging the arts and creative practice in conceptually rigorous and methodologically innovative ways including Kathleen Stewart Keith Murphy Natasha Myers Stuart McLean Craig Campbell and Roger Sansi Essays span the globe from Indonesia West Virginia and Los Angeles in the United States to the Orkney Islands in the UK and Russia and Spain Fictionalizing Anthropology Stuart J. McLean, 2017-11-22 What might become of anthropology if it were to suspend its sometime claims to be a social science What if it were to turn instead to exploring its affinities with art and literature as a mode of engaged creative practice carried forward in a world heterogeneously composed of humans and other than humans Stuart McLean claims that anthropology stands to learn most from art and literature not as evidence to support explanations based on an appeal to social context or history but as modes of engagement with the materiality of expressive media including language that always retain the capacity to disrupt or exceed the human projects enacted through them At once comparative in scope and ethnographically informed Fictionalizing Anthropology draws on an eclectic range of sources including ancient Mesopotamian myth Norse saga literature Hesiod Lucretius Joyce Artaud and Lispector as well as film multimedia and performance art along with the concept of fabulation the making of fictions capable of intervening in and transforming reality developed in the writings of Bergson and Deleuze Sharing with proponents of anthropology's recent ontological turn McLean insists that experiments with language and form are a performative means of exploring alternative possibilities of collective existence new ways of being human and other than human and that such experiments must therefore be indispensable to anthropology's engagement with the contemporary world Hamlet William Shakespeare, 1877 National Melodies, and Other Poems John Lee Lewes, 1817 The Works of William Shakespeare William Shakespeare, 1901 Familiar Quotations ... John Bartlett, 1875 The Essays Francis Bacon, 1908 The Nineteenth Century and After, 1918 University Homoeopathic Observer W.
