Mastering America Robert E. Bonner, 2009-04-27 Mastering America recounts efforts of proslavery nationalists to navigate the nineteenth century geopolitics of imperialism federalism and nationalism and to articulate themes of American mission in overtly proslavery terms At the heart of this study are spokesmen of the Southern Master Class who crafted a vision of American destiny that put chattel slavery at its center Looking beyond previous studies of the links between these proslavery nationalists and secession the book sheds new light on the relationship between the conservative Unionism of the 1850s and the key formulations of Confederate nationalism that arose during war in the 1860s Bonner s innovative research charts the crucial role these men and women played in the development of American imperialism constitutionalism evangelicalism and popular patriotism

American Planters and Irish Landlords in Comparative and Transnational Perspective Cathal Smith, 2021-03-14 This is the first study to systematically explore similarities differences and connections between the histories of American planters and Irish landlords The book focuses primarily on the comparative and transnational investigation of an antebellum Mississippi planter named John A Quitman 1799 1858 and a nineteenth century Irish landlord named Robert Dillon Lord Clonbrock 1807 93 examining their economic behaviors ideologies labor relations and political histories Locating Quitman and Clonbrock firmly within their wider local national and international contexts American Planters and Irish Landlords in Comparative and Transnational Perspective argues that the two men were representative of specific but comparable manifestations of agrarian modernity paternalism and conservatism that became common among the landed elites who dominated economy society and politics in the antebellum American South and in nineteenth century Ireland It also demonstrates that American planters and Irish landlords were connected by myriad direct and indirect transnational links between their societies including transatlantic intellectual cultures mutual participation in global capitalism and the mass migration of people from Ireland to the United States that occurred during the nineteenth century
