Parenting Made Easy Sue Atkins, 2012-04-05 Be the parent you want to be with Parenting Made Easy. Parenting coach Sue Atkins has helped thousands of parents build stronger relationships with their children using her straightforward strategies. In this practical guide she shares her positive methods to help you parent with confidence and raise motivated, well-behaved and happy kids. Develop your children's self-esteem. Turn conflicts into conversations. Encourage independence and good behaviour. Be confident and positive in your abilities as a parent. Real-Time Parenting Beth Miller, Mary Funari, Amy Armstrong, 2021-03-16 Real Time Parenting is the antidote to our comparison culture. Parents increase self-awareness and develop trust in themselves by taking inventory of their personality values and past experiences. They craft a unique vision for their family and choose action steps to meet their children's needs in the heat of everyday moments. There is no one size fits all approach to parenting. Real Time Parenting is written by three parent coaches who understand the demands of parenthood and empower moms and dads to discover their personal best. Through stories and practice they respond to their family with intention instead of reacting from stress. They build self-confidence as they embrace a positive mindset, celebrate wins and engage with a supportive community. Referencing well-known experts and professional experience, Real Time Parenting presents a versatile toolkit of ten best practices based in positive communication, effective discipline and problem-solving. Parents become influential guides for their unique children through teaching, modeling and setting healthy boundaries. They focus on connection and encouraging do-behaviors instead of trying to control their children. Moms and dads realize it is never too late to improve the parent-child relationship. Parents propel their children toward healthy independence and find renewed joy in real time. The Real Purpose of Parenting Philip Dembo, 2011-12 Dr Philip Dembo presents in his new book THE PARENT COACH a model of parenting that finally addresses our nation's ongoing crisis. We are raising children with little or no character or conscience. The generations of young people have little work ethic, little worry about how their actions affect others and seem to want it all with little sacrifice. The book looks at the current parenting strategies as a contributor to the underdevelopment of children today. Parents in all their effort to gain compliance from their children are actually interfering with their development. What do we do now? How do we undo what we have been doing? THE PARENT COACH gives us a model that links the development of a child's true voice with his/her actual experience to the strategies of parents and their important role in coaching their child's journey through their own growth. The Role of Parents In Tennis Player's Success. Martin Toms PhD is a senior lecturer, associate professor in the School of Sport, Exercise and Rehabilitation Sciences at the University of Birmingham, UK. A former professional sports coach with an MPhil and PhD exploring the sociological issues of young people in junior sport, Martin has been heavily involved in juniors sport all of his adult life. He has published widely and presented extensively around the world on youth sport, including working on international projects and for NBGs, Federations, and National Governmental organisations. He has gained European and SCUK funding for youth and coaching related projects, as well as being involved in international consultancy. He is a co-editor of the European Journal for Sport and Society as well as the current Editor in Chief of the International Journal of Golf Science.

Ruth Jeanes PhD is an associate professor in the Faculty of Education at Monash University, Australia. Ruth's research examines inclusion and exclusion within youth sport, particularly examining how sport can be used to achieve broader social policy objectives targeted at young people. Within this, she is particularly interested in the role of coaches in facilitating broader social outcomes for young people. Ruth has published extensively in these areas with over 100 publications across journal articles, book chapters, and books. She is widely cited and has been successful in securing extensive funding for her research, including two highly competitive Australian Research Council grants.
