This volume contains twenty two essays in honor of Carl R Holladay whose work on the interaction between early Christianity and Hellenistic Judaism has had a considerable impact on the study of the New Testament The essays are grouped into three sections Hellenistic Judaism the New Testament in Context and the History of Interpretation Among the contributions are essays dealing with conversion in Greek speaking Judaism and Christianity 3 Maccabees as a narrative satire retribution theology in Luke Acts church discipline in Matthew the Exodus and comparative chronology in Jewish and patristic writings corporal punishment in ancient Israel and early Christianity and Die Judenfrage and the construction of ancient Judaism

The Scriptures of Israel in Jewish and Christian Tradition Bart Koet,Steve Moyise,Joseph Verheyden,2013-03-18 The Scriptures of Israel in Jewish and Christian Tradition is a collection of studies in honour of Professor Maarten J J Menken Tilburg Utrecht and illustrates the rich diversity of approaches to biblical interpretation at the beginning of the Common Era An international team of specialists share their insights on such topics as the availability of Hebrew Aramaic and Greek texts Jewish and Christian hermeneutics notions of authority and inspiration and even a study of inscriptions Each in its own way demonstrates that the relationship between text and tradition culture and belief is always complex The Background of the Gospels, Or, Judaism in the Period Between the Old and New Testaments William Fairweather,1920 The Judaic

Tradition Nahum Norbert Glatzer,1969 A sourcebook of post biblical Jewish literature from the Second Commonwealth to modern times The Bookman ,1897 The Zechariah Tradition and the Gospel of Matthew Charlene McAfee Moss,2008

The Zechariah Tradition and the Gospel of Matthew is a comprehensive study of the ways Matthew utilizes Zechariah texts and traditions Against the background of materials from Qumran and apocryphal and deuterocanonical writings Matthew s explicit citations of Zechariah are examined the influence of Zechariah elsewhere in the First Gospel is identified and the extent to which Matthew alludes to characteristic Zechariah themes alone or in combination with other prophetic traditions is explored Zechariah traditions appear in Matthew s distinctive materials as well as in texts Matthew has transmitted or altered from Mark and Q The impact of Zech 9 14 is not limited to the Passion Narrative but extends through Matthew s Infancy and Galilean healing narratives as well important concepts from Zech 1 8 are also discerned in the Infancy and Passion Narratives Moss works through the canonical order of Matthew this enables readers to appreciate the cumulative effect of Zechariah s influence at each stage of the Gospel story Two appendices one arranged according to Zechariah and the other to Matthew list possible references to Zechariah in Matthew This monograph is useful for Matthean studies and it is an insightful investigation of how one set of Old Testamental traditions are appropriated in one canonical Gospel and in the New Testament The Reception of Jewish Tradition in the Social Imagination of the Early Christians John M.G.

Barclay, Kylie Crabbe, 2021-08-26 The contributors to this volume take as their theme the reception of Jewish traditions in early Christianity and the ways in which the meaning of these traditions changed as they were put to work in new contexts and for new social ends. Special emphasis is placed on the internal variety and malleability of these traditions which underwent continual processes of change within Judaism and on reception as an active, strategic and interested process. All the essays in this volume seek to bring out how acts of reception contribute to the social formation of early Christianity in its social imagination, its speech and thought about itself or in its social practices or both. This volume challenges static notions of tradition and passive ideas of reception, stressing creativity and the significance of strong readings of tradition. It thus complicates standard narratives of the parting of the ways between Christianity and Judaism, showing how even claims to continuity were bound to make the same different. Historical and Biblical Israel Reinhard Gregor Kratz, 2015 At the centre of this book lies a fundamental yet unanswered question: under which historical and sociological conditions and in what manner the Hebrew Bible became an authoritative tradition that is holy scripture and the canon of Judaism as well as Christianity. Reinhard G. Kratz answers this very question by distinguishing between historical and biblical Israel. This foundational and for the arrangement of the book crucial distinction affirms that the Israel of biblical tradition, i.e. the sacred history, historia sacra of the Hebrew Bible cannot simply be equated with the history of Israel and Judah. Kratz provides a synthesis of both the Israelite and Judahite history and the genesis and development of biblical tradition. Biblical Interpretation in the Book of Jubilees John C. Endres, 1987 This study of Jubilees 19-30 Jacob traditions focuses on the author's redaction of biblical tradition in Genesis 23-34, especially the additions to and deletions from the tradition. Two questions arise consistently: how did the writer interpret/redact the story and what did he propose/theological tendencies. The focal point is how he retold the story in keeping with his vision. The Universal Jewish Encyclopedia Isaac Landman, Louis Rittenberg, 1939 The Interpretation of Scripture in Early Judaism and Christianity Craig A. Evans, 2000-06-01 This volume assembles several important studies that examine the role of language in meaning and interpretation. The various contributions investigate interpretation in the versions in intertestamental traditions in the New Testament and in the rabbis and the targumim. The authors, who include well-known veterans as well as younger scholars, explore the differing ways in which the language of Scripture stimulates the understanding of the sacred text in late antiquity and gives rise to important theological themes. This book is a significant resource for any scholar interested in the interpretation of Scripture in and just after the biblical period. Students' Annual, 1914 The Ideal in Judaism Morris Joseph, 1893 Cyclopaedia of Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Literature John McClintock, 1876 Jewish Biblical Interpretation: Medieval and Modern Michael Fishbane, 2024-07-17 Following his first wide-ranging collection on biblical text and exegetical culture, Michael Fishbane supplements his previous investigations with this second volume of collected writings. It includes close studies in medieval Jewish liturgical poetry, Jewish biblical exegesis, plain sense, allegorical sense philosophical and mystical senses and modern Jewish thought traditional especially Hasidic literature as well as modern Jewish theology Emphasizing the varieties of Jewish exegetical culture and the interplay between culture text and theology each study is intended to be paradigmatic for a particular cultural or literary subject and includes many comparative examples while placing special emphasis on hermeneutical and expository matters The Bible and the Jews Allen W. Johnston, 1925

Holy Scriptures in Judaism, Christianity and Islam, 2023-09-20 One of the prime issues that needs to be addressed in dialogical encounter between the three monotheistic faiths of the world is that concerning the authority and interpretation of Holy Writ since Jews Christians and Muslims alike consider their Scriptures to be divine revelation It is incumbent upon each of these religions to apprise itself of the hermeneutical approach employed by the others in ascribing current meaning to ancient scriptural texts This is not only important as a means for the enhancement of inter religious understanding but is also of great interest to society at large What role does the Jewish Bible the Christian Bible and the Qu ran play in the thinking and the lives of contemporary Jews Christians and Muslims How are these Holy Scriptures interpreted in terms of present day circumstances How much room do the three religions allow for bringing their basic messages and biblical theological traditions into rapport with constantly changing social political and economic conditions Is the concept of hermeneutical space acceptable to these religions If so in what sense and at what level Is it possible to identify the scopus of a text and then reconstitute it textually as it were in light of the social and ethical questions thrown up by new contextual developments Can interpretive adjustments be made without jeopardizing the core message of the text involved And do the three monotheistic religions stand open to one another for influence in this regard Has one or another of them taken hermeneutical cues from the others Is there room for mutual learning within the hermeneutical space mentioned above or is this a sacred space closed to all influence from other traditions These are among the central questions raised and dealt with in this interreligious collection of essays perhaps the only dialogical symposium to date to deal exclusively with the doctrine and hermeneutics of Holy Scripture in Judaism Christianity and Islam
