On the Edge of a Roman Port Elena Korka, Joseph L. Rife, 2023-01-09 Between 2007 and 2014 a Greek American team investigated an impressive array of Early Roman to Early Byzantine buildings and burials on the Koutsongila Ridge at Kenchreai the eastern port of ancient Corinth This volume presents the project's final results revealing abundant evidence not only for the history of activity in a transitional urban suburban landscape but also for the society economy and religion of local residents Important structural and mortuary discoveries abound including a district of lavish houses with exquisite mosaic pavement and an Early Christian Octagon The large artifactual assemblage encompasses a variety of objects from pottery and lamps to glass coins and jewelry Bones and teeth from over 200 individuals illustrate differences in health over time while thousands of bones and shells from a variety of animals attest to diet and subsistence This study paints a picture of a Corinthian community small but prosperous and well connected actively participating in an urban elite culture expressed through decorative art and monumental architecture Aegaeum, 1987 Greek and Roman Pottery from Sphakia, South-West Crete Jane E. Francis, 2025-11-30 Analyzes Greek and Roman pottery from the Sphakia Survey in western Crete integrating morphological and fabric analysis to explore local ceramic traditions site history and broader regional connections This volume presents the Greek and Roman pottery collected and analysed by the Sphakia Survey project and provides a ceramic model for a large section of western Crete where ceramic traditions both domestic and imported are little known This research integrates two approaches It first presents a morphological and functional study of a body of pottery from a sizeable part of Crete with little known archaeological evidence Second fabric analysis identifies and defines clays and clay mixtures with macroscopic and petrographic analyses providing results from two perspectives The rigorous application of fabric analysis combined with the morphological examination contribute to reconstructions of sites and areas within Sphakia This data provides information about the history of individual sites but then more broadly about that of Sphakia itself Elements like site chronology activities undertaken in particular areas available landscape resources and their exploitation and contact within the region with other parts of Crete and the wider Greek and Roman worlds are explored Historical Philology Bela Brogyanyi, Reiner Lipp, 1992-10-08 The present volume mainly contains contributions on the classical language Greek and Latin In addition to the historical comparative linguistic aspects of these languages philological and historical questions are dealt with as well Consideration of Italic and Romance topics is also included The volume is divided into 7

sections I Greek linguistics II Greek lexicology III Mycenology IV Greek philology V Italic and Latin philology VI Latin and Romance languages VII Roman history
