Jozef P. Kleihues K. Shkapich, 1989 JOSEF P. KLEIHUES, 1989 Museums for a New Millennium Stanislaus von Moos, Friedrich Achleitner, 1999 Contemporary museum buildings are often pure manifestations of the architectural concepts of their designers making them interesting not only as functional buildings but as a seismograph of architectural culture as well Dinner For Architects Winfried Nerdinger, 2004-05-25 Upon the opening of the Gallery of Modern Art in Munich the museum director asked noted architects to sketch their personal messages on paper napkins thus creating this colorful collection Josef Paul Kleihues Josef Paul Kleihues, 2003 Josef Paul Kleihues is one of the great internationally renowned German architects of the present day who has had a far reaching impact on both theory and practice of construction since the 1970s Early on Berlin was the geographical focal point of his work his most important building projects in this city include the main workshop of the Berliner Stadtreinigung the Kantdreieck Tower the reconstruction of the Museum Hamburger Bahnhof as well as the Liebermann house and the Sommer house on Pariser Platz On the occasion of Josef Paul Kleihues seventieth birthday this richly illustrated book for the first time systematically and comprehensively introduces the world famous architect s life achievements Renowned authors direct attention to the different facets of his important work thus providing fascinating insights into the architectural history and theory of the past decades Text in English and German

Josef P. Kleihues; the museum projects K. Shkapich, 1989 Collective Vision Museum of Contemporary Art (Chicago, Ill.), 1996 It is said that art reveals the heart of humankind architecture the soul of civilization This summer heart and soul will merge in the new building for Chicago s Museum of Contemporary Art Designed by famous Berlin architect Josef Paul Kleihues his first U S commission the new MCA stands beside both celebrated Michigan Avenue and the city s stunning lake shore This book examines the entire process of starting and then dramatically expanding a contemporary art museum from the tumultuous sixties to the cusp of a new century The MCA s achievements such as Christo s first wrapping of a public building 1969 Frida Kahlo s first U S exhibition 1978 and Jeff Koons s first full scale museum exhibition 1988 are discussed accompanied by historic photographs In his essay Josef Paul Kleihues Chicago and Berlin art and architecture critic Franz Schulze considers the conceptual framework of Kleihues s design for the MCA as well as the architect s adaptive reuse of the Hamburger Bahnhof train station to house Berlin s Museum of Contemporary Art Finally color reproductions of 40 works from the vast MCA permanent collection are juxtaposed with informative text on more than 30 featured artists including Francis Bacon Leon Golub Jasper Johns Sol LeWitt Bruce Nauman Ad Reinhardt Mark Rothko Cindy Sherman and Andy Warhol The sum of these parts is a fascinating volume that thoroughly examines the very idea of an art museum according to its corresponding ideal presenting interpreting and collecting the art of our time for a diverse audience Publisher description Josef Paul Kleihues Josef Paul Kleihues, 2008 Josef Paul Kleihues 1933 2004 was one of the most prolific architects of postwar Germany famous both as the Director of the International Building Exhibition Berlin in 1987 and for his design for the Museum of Contemporary Art in Chicago He was also known for his sensitive interventions into older buildings an instance of which is the former Hamburger Bahnhof now the Museum f r Gegenwart in Berlin where Kleihues intermixed glass walls and light installations by the American Minimalist Dan Flavin with the building s original nineteenth century Neoclassical design His reconstruction was widely deemed to rival or even surpass Gae Aulenti s overhaul of the interior of the Mus e d Orsay in Paris This first volume of a three part monograph presents projects up to 1980 including the highly acclaimed Berlin Sanitation Department and the Neuk lln Hospital Even in these early works Kleihues practical problem solving approach is already evident indicating his readiness to reflect on the traditional approaches of Modern architecture and his capacity to expand them in interesting ways This very generously illustrated volume was designed by Kleihues himself just before his death in 2004 Museum Builders II Laura Hourston, Laura Hourston Hanks, 2004-03-05 The popularity of the museum has dramatically increased in recent years and many modern examples have been built around the world This book catalogues these developments and beautifully presents an exciting selection of the most inspiring examples of contemporary museums around the world The book that first launched the successful Builders series was Museum Builders in 1994 and since this time there has been an explosion in museum building by some of the world s most famous architects Instead of trying to update the first edition Wiley Academy has produced a completely new and updated volume Following a historical and contemporary assessment of the role of the museum the author presents in great photographic detail the most famous examples of modern museums around the world Includes work by Frank Gehry Rem Koolhaas Daniel Libeskind Zaha Hadid Jean Nouvel and others The Nazi Perpetrator Paul B. Jaskot, 2012-12-10 Who was responsible for the crimes of the Nazis Party leaders and members Rank and file soldiers and bureaucrats Ordinary Germans This question looms over German disputes about the past like few others It also looms over the art and architecture of postwar Germany in ways that have been surprisingly neglected In The Nazi Perpetrator Paul B Jaskot fundamentally reevaluates pivotal developments in postwar German art and architecture against the backdrop of contentious contemporary debates over the Nazi past and the difficulty of determining who was or was not a Nazi perpetrator Like their fellow Germans postwar artists and architects grappled with the Nazi past and the problem of defining the Nazi perpetrator a problem that was thoroughly entangled with contemporary conservative politics and the explosive issue of former Nazis living in postwar Germany Beginning with the formative connection between Nazi politics and art during the 1930s The Nazi Perpetrator traces the dilemma of identifying the perpetrator across the entire postwar period Jaskot examines key works and episodes from West Germany and after 1989 reunified Germany showing how the changing perception of the perpetrator deeply impacted art and architecture even in cases where artworks and buildings seem to have no obvious relation to the Nazi past The book also reinterprets important periods in the careers of such major figures as Gerhard Richter Anselm Kiefer and

Daniel Libeskind Combining political history with a close analysis of specific works The Nazi Perpetrator powerfully demonstrates that the ongoing influence of Nazi Germany after 1945 is much more central to understanding a wide range of modern German art and architecture than cultural historians have previously recognized New German Architecture Ullrich Schwarz, 2002 UnDoing Buildings Sally Stone, 2019-06-18 UnDoing Buildings Adaptive Reuse and Cultural Memory discusses one of the greatest challenges for twenty first century society what is to be done with the huge stock of existing buildings that have outlived the function for which they were built Their worth is well recognised and the importance of retaining them has been long debated but if they are to be saved what is to be done with these redundant buildings This book argues that remodelling is a healthy and environmentally friendly approach Issues of heritage conservation sustainability and smartness are at the forefront of many discussions about architecture today and adaptive reuse offers the opportunity to reinforce the particular character of an area using up to date digital and construction techniques for a contemporary population Issues of collective memory and identity combined with ideas of tradition history and culture mean that it is possible to retain a sense of continuity with the past as a way of creating the future UnDoing Buildings Adaptive Reuse and Cultural Memory has an international perspective and will be of interest to upper level students and professionals working on the fields of Interior Design Interior Architecture Architecture Conservation Urban Design and Development Bibliographic Guide to Art and Architecture New York Public Library. Art and Architecture Division, 1975 Contemporary Architects Muriel Emanuel, 2016-01-23 Journal of the Society of Architectural Historians Society of Architectural Historians, 1989 Includes special issues Design Book Review , 1990 Contemporary Architects Ann Lee Morgan, Colin Naylor, 1987 To strengthen the contemporary focus of this volume we have added about forty architects and have deleted some whose activity ceased before World War II In making these decisions we have been assisted by an Advisory Board As in the first volume we have continued to define the word architect very broadly so as to include planners theorists structural engineers and landscape architects whose work seems to be central to the enterprise of creating habitable spaces in our day Editor s note The Publishers' Trade List Annual , 1990
