Museums And The Holocaust:

Memorialising the Holocaust in Human Rights Museums Katrin Antweiler, 2023-04-27 Honourable Mention in the Best First Book Award of the Memory Studies Association 2025 This book provides an analysis of the forms and functions of Holocaust memorialisation in human rights museums by asking about the impact of global memory politics on how we imagine the present and the future It compares three human rights museums and their respective employment of the Holocaust and seeks to illuminate how in this specific setting memory politics simultaneously function as future politics because they delineate a normative ideal of the citizen subject its set of values and aspirations for the future that of the historically aware human rights advocate More than an ethical practice engaging with the Holocaust is used as a means of asserting one's standing on the right side of history the memorialisation of the Holocaust has thus become a means of governmentality a way of governing contemporary citizen subjects The linking of public memory of the Holocaust with the human rights project is often presented as highly beneficial for all members of what is often called the global community Yet this book argues that this specific constellation of memory also has the ability to function as an exercise of power and thus runs the risk of reinforcing structural oppression With its novel theoretical approach this book not only contributes to Memory Studies but also connects Holocaust memory to Studies of Global Governmentality and the debate on decolonising memory politics

Holocaust Memory Reframed Jennifer Hansen-Glucklich, 2014-03-31 Holocaust memorials and museums face a difficult task as their staffs strive to commemorate and document horror On the one hand the events museums represent are beyond most people's experiences At the same time they are often portrayed by theologians artists and philosophers in ways that are already known by the public Museum administrators and curators have the challenging role of finding a creative way to present Holocaust exhibits to avoid clichéd or dehumanizing portrayals of victims and their suffering In Holocaust Memory Reframed Jennifer Hansen Glucklich examines representations in three museums Israel's Yad Vashem in Jerusalem Germany's Jewish Museum in Berlin and the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington D C She describes a variety of visually striking media including architecture photography exhibits artifact displays and video installations in order to explain the aesthetic techniques that the museums employ As she interprets the exhibits Hansen Glucklich clarifies how museums communicate Holocaust narratives within the historical and cultural contexts specific to Germany Israel and the United States In Yad Vashem architect Moshe Safdie developed a narrative suited for Israel rooted in a redemptive Zionist story of homecoming to a place of mythic geography and renewal in contrast to death and suffering in exile In the Jewish Museum in Berlin Daniel Libeskind's architecture broken lines and voids emphasize absence Here exhibits communicate a conflicted ideology torn between the loss of a Jewish past and the country's current multicultural ethos The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum presents yet another lens conveying through its exhibits a sense of sacrifice that is part of the civil values of American democracy and trying to overcome geographic and temporal distance One well know example the pile of thousands of shoes plundered from concentration camp victims encourages the visitor to bridge the gap between viewer and victim Hansen Glücklich explores how each museum's concept of the sacred shapes the design and choreography of visitors' experiences within museum spaces These spaces are sites of pilgrimage that can in turn lead to rites of passage Museums and the Holocaust Norman Palmer, 2000 This book examines the fate which befell some of the great

Museum Stephan Jaeger, 2020-02-24 The Second World War is omnipresent in contemporary memory debates As the war fades from living memory this study is the first to systematically analyze how Second World War museums allow prototypical visitors to comprehend and experience the past It analyzes twelve permanent exhibitions in Europe and North America including the Bundeswehr Military History Museum in Dresden the Museum of the Second World War in Gdańsk the House of European History in Brussels the Imperial War Museums in London and Manchester and the National WWII Museum in New Orleans in order to show how museums reflect and shape cultural memory as well as their cognitive ethical emotional and aesthetic potential and effects This includes a discussion of representations of events such as the Holocaust and air warfare In relation to narrative memory and experience the study develops the concept of experientiality on a sliding scale between mimetic and structural forms which provides a new textual spatial method for reading exhibitions and understanding the experiences of historical individuals and collectives It is supplemented by concepts like transnational memory empathy and encouraging critical thinking through difficult knowledge MUSEUMS AND THE HOLOCAUST, 2021 World War I &
