Music, Myth and Story in Medieval and Early Modern Culture Katherine Butler, Samantha Bassler, 2019 The complex relationship between myths and music is here investigated. Myths and stories offer a window onto medieval and early modern musical culture. Far from merely offering material for musical settings, authoritative tales from classical mythology, ancient history, and the Bible were treated as foundations for musical knowledge. Such myths were cited in support of arguments about the uses, effects, morality, and preferred styles of music in sources as diverse as theoretical treatises, defences, or critiques of music, art, sermons, educational literature, and books of moral conduct. Newly written literary stories, too, were believed capable of moral instruction and influence and were a medium through which ideas about music could be both explored and transmitted. How authors interpreted and weaved together these traditional stories or created their own reveals much about changing attitudes across the period. Looking beyond the well-known figure of Orpheus, this collection explores the myriad stories that shaped not only musical thought but also its styles, techniques, and practices. The essays show that music itself performed and created knowledge in ways parallel to myth and worked in tandem with old and new tales to construct social, political, and philosophical views. This relationship was not static; however, as the Enlightenment dawned, the once authoritative gods became comic characters, and myth became a medium for ridicule. Overall, the book provides a foundation for exploring myth and story throughout medieval and early modern culture and facilitating further study into the Enlightenment and beyond.

KATHERINE BUTLER is a senior lecturer in music at Northumbria University. SAMANTHA BASSLER is a musicologist of cultural studies, a teaching artist, and an adjunct professor in the New York metropolitan area.

While the Music Lasts David A. Powell, 2001 At the same time, Sand's musical referencing techniques afford a culturally based method for looking at French society and the need for a humanist reform, all the while exploring feminist statements, narrative strategies, love plots, and questions of communication, language, and nationhood.
