Musical Expeditions Trance 2:

Turkic Soundscapes Razia Sultanova, Megan Rancier, 2018-01-19 The Turkic soundscape is both geographically huge and culturally diverse twenty eight countries republics and districts extending from Eastern Europe through the Caucasus and throughout Central Asia Although the Turkic peoples of the world can trace their linguistic and genetic ancestries to common sources their extensive geographical dispersion and widely varying historical and political experiences have generated a range of different expressive music forms In addition the break up of the Soviet Union and increasing globalization have resulted in the emergence of new viewpoints on classical and folk traditions Turkic versions of globalized popular culture and re workings of folk and religious practices to fit new social needs In line with the opening up of many Turkic regions in the post Soviet era awareness of scholarship from these regions has also increased Consisting of twelve individual contributions that reflect the geographical breadth of the area under study the collection addresses animist and Islamic religious songs the historical development of Turkic musical instruments ethnography and analysis of classical court music traditions cross cultural influences throughout the Turkic world music and mass media and popular music in traditional contexts The result is a well balanced survey of music in the Turkic speaking world representing folk popular and classical traditions equally as well as discussing how these traditions have changed in response to growing modernity and cosmopolitanism in Europe and Central Asia

Journey Among Dervishes Between Past and Present AA:

VV:, 2024-03-08T00:00:00+01:00 The present book intends to invite readers on a multi dimensional and multifaceted journey meeting dervishes in different places and environments of the Muslim world its peculiarity is to bring together a classical orientalist approach based on texts and written documents with the approach typical of Anthropology Ethnography and Ethnomusicology based on research in the field and oral sources the ethnographic study of the present sheds new light on practices methods and theories exposed in treatises of the Past while at the same time practices of the present may be clarified and illuminated by the study of ancient Sufi texts and authors These different approaches want to draw attention to the multiple dimensions embraced by tasawwuf Sufism both in its historical and social context and in its nontemporal aspect concerning spirituality and the ways the latter is conveyed and transmitted both in the past and present
