Fleming, Favro, Murray, Art Gallery of Ontario, 1983 The Collected Writings of Michael Snow Michael Snow, Louise Dompierre, 2010-10-30 Writing for Michael Snow is as much a form of art making as the broad range of visual art activities for which he is renowned including the Walking Woman series and the film Wavelength Conversely many of the texts included in this anthology are as significant visually as they are at the level of content they are meant to be looked at as well as read Situated somewhere between a repository of contemporary thought by one of our leading Canadian artists and a history book as it brings to light some important moments in the cultural life of Canada since the 1950s these texts tell their own story marking the passage of time ideas and attitudes The works included here ranging from essays and interviews and record album cover notes to filmscripts and speeches which in Snow s hands often fall into the category of performance art are not only built for browsing they offer insights into both the professional and the private Snow Together they expand the context of Snow s work and show the evolution of a great Canadian artist beginning with his early attempts at defining art to his emergence and recognition on the international art scene This book is one of four books that are part of the Michael Snow Project Initiated by the Art Gallery of Ontario and The Power Plant Gallery the project also includes four exhibitions of his visual art and music Murray Favro , A Retrospective Marie L. Fleming, Murray Favro, Art Gallery of Ontario, 1983 Murray Favro National Gallery of Canada, Denise Leclerc, 2003 The Way It Is James King, 2017-09-02 The long awaited biography of one of Canada s most intriguing and beguiling artists Do artists really thrive in big cities or do they just learn to imitate New York Is it a contradiction for an artist to be fiercely local and profoundly identified with international art movements If the brilliant colourist and regionalist pioneer Greg Curnoe stood for any one thing it was making trouble An intriguing rebel throughout his life he challenged ideas about what art should be and pushed it in radical new directions including away from Toronto a city he rejected while succeeding masterfully in its galleries His untimely death in 1992 cut short a career of constant reinvention This first biography of Curnoe recaptures in vivid detail the public and personal life of an iconoclast who was called a walking autobiography as his work seemed to document his endless struggle against many of the core tenets of the art of his time An anti establishment firebrand and a fierce opponent of American dominance in Canadian culture Curnoe in his conceptual practice constructed a stunning body of work that remains a hallmark in late twentieth century Canadian art Murray Favro James D. Campbell, Murray Favro, 1991 Artscanada ,1976 Rétrospective Murray Favro National Gallery of Canada, 1984 Depth Markers James D.
