Desiring Rome Richard Jackson King, 2006 During his last two decades ca 2 BCE 17 CE Ovid composed but never completed his Fasti an elegiac representation of Rome s rites and festivals only six of twelve month books remain Earlier scholars have claimed that this is due either to Ovid s exile from Rome which put him out of touch with the Roman literary world or else his frustration over the Roman calendar s discontinuity Drawing upon recent scholarship in gender studies and Lacanian film theory Richard J King analyzes this exilic incompleteness as inviting the citizen male reader into what he calls an angular or skewed viewpoint which interrogates the Roman hierarchical and male dominated social order insofar as it is mirrored in the Roman calendar of rites and festivals Ovid already well known and even infamous as the composer of erotic poems and the Metamorphoses does this by emulating the civic gesture of calendar presentation whereby upwardly mobile adult male citizens caused calendars to be carved in stone and set up in conspicuous public places to reflect the city s pride and to build their own prestige as public figures In this innovative study King discusses the Fasti as Ovid s socially strategic use of this gesture Interrupted by exile and filled with varying explanations of Roman festivals Ovid s poetic version manifests a form whose brokenness comments on the fractured identity of the exiled poet and citizen subjects generally in an imperial order ambivalent toward its greatest poet Desiring Rome expands upon recent recognition of the Fasti s centrality to early imperial politics by situating the poem s failure within broader negotiations of identity between early imperial citizen subjects and the cultural ideology of Roman manhood

Chaucer's Tragic Muse

Christine Herold, 2003 This work significantly revises the history of literary tragedy The first half examines the classical background regarding theories of tragedy philosophical theological and literary The second half investigates tragedy as it appears in various works of Chaucer A pivotal central chapter demonstrates the previously missing link between Senecan and Chaucerian tragedy Scholars of drama especially Renaissance drama will find this study indispensable since it presents a challenge to the entrenched theories of the discovery of Senecan tragedy by Renaissance playwrights It also argues that Boethius is explicitly in dialogue with the late Roman tradition specifically Seneca documenting a direct line of influence from Seneca's Latin plays through the Consolation of Boethius to de Meun Boccaccio and Chaucer It contributes a corrective to a persistent blind spot in medievalist criticism that would deny the integration of classical secular influences into medieval Christian thought From publishers website The Religious and Mythological Elements in Statius' Silvae Anna Byers, 1913 Cornell Studies in Classical Philology, 1995 *The muse of the department.
