Museum Making Suzanne Macleod, Laura Hourston Hanks, Jonathan Hale, 2012-03-15 Over recent decades many museums galleries and historic sites around the world have enjoyed an unprecedented level of large scale investment in their capital infrastructure in building refurbishments and new gallery displays This period has also seen the creation of countless new purpose built museums and galleries suggesting a fundamental re evaluation of the processes of designing and shaping of museums Museum Making Narratives Architectures Exhibitions examines this re making by exploring the inherently spatial character of narrative in the museum and its potential to connect on the deepest levels with human perception and imagination Through this uniting theme the chapters explore the power of narratives as structured experiences unfolding in space and time as well as the use of theatre film and other technologies of storytelling by contemporary museum makers to generate meaningful and it is argued here highly effective and affective museum spaces Contributions by an internationally diverse group of museum and heritage professionals exhibition designers architects and artists with academics from a range of disciplines including museum studies theatre studies architecture design and history cut across traditional boundaries including the historical and the contemporary and together explore the various roles and functions of narrative as a mechanism for the creation of engaging and meaningful interpretive environments

Introducing Museum Studies Gordon Fyfe, 2025-06-17 Introducing Museum Studies is the first introductory textbook for museum studies Providing a wide ranging and original overview of museums from a historical and contemporary perspective it covers key topics such as the history of the museum the museum as a public space visitors and communities The book shows how museums far from being neutral collections exhibit objects which convey powerful symbolic meanings This cultural turn away from the object as a thing in itself has placed museums at the centre of debates about public culture citizenship inclusion and repatriation Museums are becoming increasingly reflexive given the awareness of the social and political role they serve and their ability to reflect the problems of our time Gordon Fyfe shows how and why this reflexivity creates a need for historical perspective on current practices on the one hand museums are enmeshed in a changing world and on the other hand they exhibit change At their best museums help us to see that everything is on the move and that change is the natural order of things Accessibly written this is the go to introduction for scholars and students of museum studies arts and cultural management and heritage studies

Museum Space Kali Tzortzi, 2016-03-09 Museum Space Museums are among the iconic buildings of the twenty first century as remarkable for their architectural diversity as for the variety of collections they display But how does the architecture of museums affect our experience as visitors This book proposes that by seeing space as common ground between architecture and museology and so between the museum building and its display we can illuminate the individuality of each museum and the distinctive experience it offers for example how some museums create a sense of personal exploration while others are more intensely didactic and how the visit in some cases is transformed into a spatial experience and in other cases into a more social event The book starts with an overview of the history of museum buildings and display strategies and a discussion of theoretical and critical approaches It then focuses on specific museums as in depth case studies and uses methods of spatial analysis to look at the key design choices available to architects and curators and their effects on visitors behaviour Theoretically grounded methodologically original and richly illustrated this book will equip students researchers and professionals in the fields of architecture museum studies curating exhibition design and cultural studies with a guide for studying museums and a theoretical framework for their interpretation

Indigenous Cultural Centers and Museums Anoma Pieris, 2016-07-14 Here is a lavishly illustrated descriptive survey of 48 leading indigenous cultural centers around the world 35 are from Australia and 13 from North America Japan Europe and Asia The book shows how each is a potentially transformative politically compelling addition to the field of cultural production illustrating how the facilities all built in the last three decades have challenged assumptions about nature culture and built form Using the spatial temporal practice of place making as the starting point the facilities highlighted here are described in terms of collaborations between a number of stake holders and professional consultants The book adopts the format of a descriptive survey with separate chapters devoted to individual case studies A broad introductory chapter which presents the arguments and overview precedes richly illustrated short individual essays on selected projects Each chapter commences with the details of the project including location area cost and consultants followed by a project description and discussion of background design development and reception of the projects Each project is approached as an architectural commission detailing the critical criteria consultants and processes The format is adopted from architectural review essays typically used in awards or journal publications within the profession which are accessible and relevant for both academics and practitioners Considerable attention is given to the process and to the evaluation of the project as a cultural response Each case study has been written with consultation of architects or administrators of the facilities for accuracy Indigenous Cultural Centers and Museums An Illustrated International Survey documents a rich legacy of collaboration across the spatial disciplines combining creative art practice architecture construction landscape design and urban design in the production of unique and culturally significant social institutions This book provides material on hitherto unknown bodies of work of talented architectural practices working collaboratively with culturally different client groups and developing consultative processes that test models for inter cultural engagement Museum Builders James Steele,1994-07-28
