No Dropout:

The College Dropout and the Utilization of Talent Lawrence A. Pervin, Louis E. Reik, Willard Dalrymple, 2015-12-08 This book examines the complicated personal and institutional factors that influence a student's decision to terminate his studies; it investigates ways to enable him to resume his education and utilize his talents. The opening chapters approach the problem from an administrative point of view, reporting on statistical and psychological research and indicating future directions. Subsequent chapters deal with personal dimensions: relations between the student and his college environment, the effects of timing of readmission, family attitudes toward the dropout, the effectiveness of psychiatric treatment, personality traits that contribute to a student's difficulties. College administrators will find this study relevant to policy decisions on admissions, medical services, and course structuring. Clinicians and researchers will find guidelines for therapy and suggestions for further investigation. Finally, parents of college dropouts will gain new understanding of the problem and the best way to meet it. Epidemiology and Biostatistics Bryan Kestenbaum, 2018-10-12 This workbook is designed to teach the major fundamental concepts in Epidemiology, Biostatistics, and clinical research design alongside the textbook Epidemiology and Biostatistics, 2nd Edition. It is written in concise and organized fashion with many examples to illustrate the concepts. Deriving from a collection of written materials created to teach Epidemiology and Biostatistics to medical students, the major differences from related titles include a story-based approach toward teaching the material, relative brevity while maintaining focus on key concepts, and taking the perspective of first-time learners, avoiding and/or clearly defining jargon using clear, common-sense language. It features a variety of questions, long, short, and multiple-choice questions. The workbook is made to provide students with the tools necessary to form their own informed conclusions from the clinical research literature.
