FRB Chicago Economic Perspectives ,1982 The Cambridge Phenomenon Revisited Bill Wicksteed,Segal Quince Wicksteed,2000 Part 1 provides an analytical overview of the Phenomenon and its growth in scale and complexity over the last fifteen years It examines different aspects of the high tech business community including start ups and spin outs the larger and long established high tech firms firms that have moved into the region and four of the key sectors software telecoms biotechnology and technology consultancy Changes in the University and related research institutes are also reviewed Part 2 looks in greater depth at a number of particularly interesting aspects of the Cambridge high tech cluster Detailed analyses are made of two contrasting sectors biotechnology which has grown quickly and exhibits many of the attributes of competitive cluster and instrumentation which was one of the earliest foundations of high tech business in Cambridge but over the past fifteen years has recorded the weakest sectoral performance BACK COVER Information and Organization Mark Casson,1997-01-30 This book offers a vision of the economy as a system of structured information flow The structuring is effected by institutions and in particular by firms which specialize in processing the information needed to allocate resources properly Firms are the institutional embodiment of the visions of individual entrepreneurs who believe that they have found a better way of allocating resources Entrepreneurial vision is only a partial vision however in the sense that it does not encompass the entire economy but only a subset of it Free market economies encourage the exploitation of such partial visions because they encourage intermediation it is by mediating between potential buyers and potential sellers that entrepreneurial visions are realized A legal framework of private property coupled with a moral framework to control the incidence of cheating allows very sophisticated structures of information processing to emerge These structures effect an elaborate division of labour in the dimensions of information and control Each firm is a small component of the overall structure of information flow This structure is highly flexible and evolves continuously as circumstances change Efficient adaptation is encouraged by rewarding entrepreneurs who create new firms to be slotted into the existing structure This vision has evolved over the last fifteen years during which the author has researched a variety of topics connected with the theory of the firm entrepreneurship business culture multinational enterprise joint ventures and the like In each of these areas he has identified the ways in which the orthodox theory of the firm needs to be modified in order to make it work properly This book represents a major intellectual synthesis of that work Firms Amitai Aviram,2020 This note is designed to explain basic concepts of the economic theory of the firm to students who have no background in economics It does not purport to cover all or even most of the scholarship in the field nor does it aim to provide new insights into the theory of the firm I find this note to be a useful teaching tool in introductory organizational law courses The note is copied from Amitai Aviram Business Associations Course Material Indian Journal of Economics ,2007 The Politics of Plant Closings John Portz,1990 A paper reprint of the 1988 original It is a political history that describes and analyzes the management of organized knowledge Wheatley takes Flexner and the Carnegie Foundation of 1910 as the model Portz political science Northeastern U combines a synthesis of the literature on urban politics and political economy with a close analysis of plant closings in Pittsburgh Pennsylvania Louisville Kentucky and Waterloo Iowa to illuminate the complexity of constraints upon and range of local government efforts to control the economic damage caused by shutdowns Paper edition unseen 12 95 Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Journal of Business Venturing ,1992 Outlook ,1925 The Outlook Lyman Abbott,Hamilton Wright Mabie,Ernest Hamlin Abbott,Francis Rufus Bellamy,1895 The Outlook ,1915
