we carry and everything we are Our names are a shadow we carry around with us They are part of who we are Our names are a marker of our self identity and our sense of self Our names have the power to shock They have the power to heal and they have the power to trigger conversations around race class social mobility and belonging But what is a name What do our names tell us about ourselves And why do they matter Named is a fascinating exploration of names global naming conventions and identity politics woven into a moving personal narrative about the finding of family and self At the intersection of memoir and social and cultural history it is a truly fascinating book about the seemingly ordinary and every day The author s own narrative about her estrangement from her Nigerian father the grapples with her Jamaican mother and her journey towards identity is woven through the chapters making it an engaging and intimate investigation of what makes us who we are
