Profound Improvement Building Capacity For A Learning Community:

Profound Improvement Coral Mitchell, Larry Sackney, 2011-03-21 The book discusses the idea of the learning community as a vehicle for professional learning and school development As the authors show the learning community develops in response to building capacity in three domains personal interpersonal and organizational In the personal domain educators deconstruct and reconstruct their professional narratives to enhance student learning and professional practice In the interpersonal domain educators generate norms and values that foster experimentation and critical analysis of educational practice and that promote collective and individual learning In the organizational domain visible and invisible structures are constructed that enable community members to enact educational practices in support of profound improvement in teaching and learning This revised and updated edition of Profound Improvement not only brings this important work up to date but also shows how the authors thinking has changed and developed since the book was originally written The book focuses on the life of educators as it relates to professional learning and growth It is concerned with human growth and development human cognition and affect and human interactions and actions in the context of a school community For the new edition the authors also elaborate more fully the notion of learning communities based on living systems and ecological perspectives develop their capacity building model They show that building a learning community is a dynamic process that engages the individual the group and the organization in embedded interdependencies and mutual influences As the authors clearly demonstrate education is a living system as opposed to a managed system

Profound Improvement Coral Mitchell, Larry Sackney, 2011-03-21 The book focuses on the life of educators as it relates to professional learning and growth It is concerned with human growth and development human cognition and affect and human interactions and actions in the context of a school community

Professional Learning Communities: Divergence, Depth And Dilemmas Stoll, Louise, Seashore Louis, Karen, 2007-03-01 This work aims to deepen conceptions and understanding of professional learning communities as well as highlighting frequently neglected complexities and challenges It is for thinking professionals internationally be they practitioners within and supporting schools policymakers academics or research students

Sustainable Improvement Coral Mitchell, Larry Sickney, 2019-02-11 Drawing on two decades of research into the nature of schools as learning communities the authors build on a prior model of learning communities that integrated three domains of capacity personal interpersonal and organizational In this text the authors move the capacity building model into practice and elaborate a theory of learning communities This book situates learning communities in living systems and ecological perspectives The fundamental premise is that all of human life and human activity is part of a deep planetary ecology of which mutuality and interdependence are cornerstone properties learning and renewal are key processes and emergent networks are foundational structures The text juxtaposes these conceptions with educational practices in order to understand what makes practice different in learning community schools The authors argue that sustainable educational improvement emerges from a reciprocal process of building people who are constantly learning building commitments to authentic learning and building schools with a relentless focus on learning The authors conclude that building a sustainable learning community requires a profound shift in how learning is understood discussed valued enabled and expressed This shift they argue is essential as schools face the challenges and opportunities in the knowledge society International Handbook of Leadership for Learning Tony Townsend, John MacBeath, 2011-07-10 The International Handbook of Leadership for Learning brings together chapters by distinguished authors from thirty one countries in nine different regions of the world The handbook contains nine sections that provide regional overviews a consideration of theoretical and contextual aspects system and policy approaches that promote leadership for learning with a focus on educating school leaders for learning and the role of the leader in supporting learning It also considers the challenge of educating current leaders for this new perspective and how leaders themselves can develop leadership for learning in others and in their organisations especially in diverse contexts and situations The final chapter considers what we now know about leadership for learning and looks at ways this might be further improved in the future The book provides the reader with an understanding of the rich contextual nature of learning in schools and the role of school leaders and leadership development in promoting this It concludes that the preposition for between the two readily known and understood terms of leadership and learning changes everything as it foregrounds learning and complexifies rather than simplifies what that word may mean Whereas common terms such as instructional leadership reduce learning to outcomes leadership for learning embraces a much wider developmental view of learning
