What Do Mothers Want? Sheila F. Brown, 2013-05-13 What do mothers want and need from their parenting partners their extended families their friends colleagues and communities And what can mental health professionals do to help them meet their daunting responsibilities in the contemporary world The talented contributors to What Do Mothers Want address these questions from perspectives that encompass differences in marital status parental status gender and sexual orientation Traversing the biological psychological cultural and economic dimensions of mothering they provide a compelling brief on the perplexing choices confronting mothers in the contemporary world Of course mothers most basically want their children to be safe and healthy But to this end they want and need many things caring partners intergenerational and community support a responsive workplace public services and opportunities to share their experiences with other mothers And they want their feelings and actions as mothers to be understood and accepted by those around them and by society at large The role of psychotherapy in reaching these latter goals is taken up by many of the contributors They reflect on the special psychological challenges of pregnancy birth and the arrival of a newborn into a couple s whether hetero or homosexual life and they address new venues of therapeutic assistance such as brief low cost therapy for at risk mothers and infants and group interventions to help couples grow into the new role of parental couples

The Political Geographies of Pregnancy Laura R. Woliver, 2010-10-01 A searing study of how modern reproductive politics shapes women s bodily agency Pregnancy indisputably takes place within a woman s body But as reproductive power finds its way into the hands of medical professionals lobbyists and policymakers the geographies of pregnancy are shifting and the boundaries need to be redrawn argues Laura R Woliver The Political Geographies of Pregnancy is a vigorous analysis of the ways modern reproductive politics are shaped by long standing debates on abortion and adoption surrogacy arrangements new reproductive technologies medical surveillance and the mapping of the human genome Across a politically charged backdrop of reproductive issues Woliver exposes strategies that claim to uphold the best interests of children families and women but in reality complicate women s struggles to have control over their own bodies Utilizing feminist standpoint theory and promoting a feminist ethic of care Woliver looks at abortion politics modern adoption laws that cater to male headed families regulations that allow the state to monitor pregnant women but not always provide care for them and the power structures behind the seemingly benign world of egg selling and surrogate parenting She also considers the potentially staggering political implications of mapping the human genome and the exclusion of women's perspectives in discussions about legislation and advancements in reproductive technologies

Mother Troubles Julia Hanigsberg, Sara Ruddick, 1999-08 A marvelous collection unified by its determination to speak on behalf of mothers assailed by government policies social institutions and a culture of mother blaming These essays open the way for more direct compassionate respectful and constructive responses to the dilemmas facing families and mothers Alison M Jaggard author of Feminist Politics and Human Nature Journal of Anthropological Research ,2007

Academic Mothers Venitha Pillay, 2007 This account of academic mothers is moving and it is also rigorously researched It explores a significant yet virtually untouched aspect of motherhood and intellectual work and will resonate with the experience of many professional women Academic mothers are likely to be middle class have access to some form of child care live in a democracy and have some legal rights and protections But the book reveals that there are freedoms such women still cannot achieve The stories of three academic mothers in South Africa reveals so much their ability and achievements their concern for their families and their determination and reflectiveness Academic mothers are engaged in intellectual work that has traditionally been the domain of men Thinking has been described by western philosophers over the centuries as rational unemotional and logical while the mother is nurturing loving emotional and sensitive The book explores how these perceived oppositional identities live within the same person Venitha Pillay challenges the notions of passion affection and the body as the domain of femininity and the mind of masculinity The intellectual emotional and personal liberation of women and society is about far more than revised structural arrangements in the workplace it demands reconceptualising work the self and family The book breaks new methodological ground for qualitative researchers revealing the intimacy between methodological decisions and the ontology of the text So it will interest social researchers as well as filling an important gap in gender studies

Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Kylo-Patrick R. Hart, 2007 If in fact oeLizzie Borden took an axe and gave her step mother forty whacks why from a representational standpoint did her stepmother deserve it If older gay men in Internet chat rooms regularly provide much needed acceptance and advice to younger gay males during the coming out process how is it that they continually reinforce racist ideologies and powerless subjectivities while doing so What sorts of media images are commonly presented of individuals and groups that are regarded as being deviant in society and whose interests do they ultimately serve The answers to these important questions and many others are provided in the pages of Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations which explores provocative representations of deviance in various media forms including books films musical offerings news accounts television programs and Internet sites and their substantial cultural political and social consequences for the lived realities of individuals of different backgrounds and lifestyles The eye opening chapters of this book enable readers to more fully realize the regularity with which media representations continuously contribute in powerful ways to the formation and perpetuation of influential social constructions of deviance and otherness as they pertain to delinquents criminals and individuals of all ages classes genders races sexual orientations and health disability statuses Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations is a thought provoking anthology that offers fresh insight and new approaches to critically analyzing social constructions of deviancy across a variety of media forms While scholars have long examined the relationship between media and deviancy this collection of essays features a range of theoretical perspectives through which to investigate deviancy and its various interpretations in original ways In the process it deepens our understanding of how deviancy has been constructed across time and in differing social cultural milieus The essays in this anthology reflect the diverse disciplines of their contributing scholars At the same time the anthology does not waver from its clear focus on deviancy lending it substantial coherence and readability The book is expertly structured and edited Each of the essays draws inspiration from a refreshing variety of sources and fields of study The anthology is accordingly divided into six distinct yet related sections that mark its coherence and readability Simultaneously the essays within each section are quite different from one another allowing the reader to make thought provoking connections between representations of deviancy both within sections and among them Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations is an important text Considering the growth of new media forms its investigation of both old and new media in relation to social constructions of deviancy represents a timely and topical contribution to the field of media and cultural studies Given its breadth and scope the anthology represents a highly significant scholarly contribution that will greatly benefit scholars students and interested individuals of all levels It offers eye opening insights to anyone with an interest in cultural studies disability studies film and television studies LGBT studies criminal justice sociology and related fields

Brief Reviewer Bio
Metasebia Woldemariam Ph D is an associate professor of communication and media studies at Plymouth State University who specializes in media representations of deviancy and otherness Mediated Deviance and Social Otherness Interrogating Influential Representations is an erudite collection offering critical and cultural analysis of media representations within various media forms including journalism film documentary television fiction music and the Internet The book is divided into six sections that highlight the categories of deviance and otherness the contributors emphasize 1 Age 2 Crime and Criminals 3 Disease and Disability 4 Gender Race and Class 5 Sexual Orientation and 6 oeOther Forms of Deviance which include masochism carnival oespectaculars and cultures of violence While some chapters feature links to topics common to media studies such as the Motion Picture Production Code what is powerful about the collection is how varied the interpretive standpoints of the contributors are An example of one such unique interpretive perspective comes from Linda K Fuller whose chapter examines the sexual political aspects of African AIDS related films based on her work in West Africa oewith a sexologist collating and critiquing appropriate media for Life Skills This interpretive variety inspires novel examination of media representations through the originality of varied genres of analysis the collection offers analysis of classic as well as popular literature popular as well as veiled news media award winning as well as obscure television series and outlaw country music as well as rap music Because oemedia is so broadly interpreted within the collection readers are encouraged to view mass media as a crucial cultural landscape for meaning making Each contributor offers a timely perspective about past or contemporary society through the analysis of unique media genres and artifacts or even through analysis of representations in multiple media forms For example Annette Holba examines multiple forms of the media representations of a less emphasized person in the Lizzie Borden case Borden TM s stepmother Editor Kylo Patrick R Hart TM s own contribution examines multiple media representations of the visible physical signs of AIDS before focusing on their representation in two particularly noteworthy film melodramas Rather than focusing on stereotypical categories of deviance and otherness the contributors focus on less commonly acknowledged representations or challenge commonly acknowledged understandings of media This is evident through Christopher J P c rez TM s ethnographic observation of instant messages from Gay com participants which dispels the notion that such online communities allow for positive expressions of gay identity Through its broad interpretation of media the collection offers an ample array of less commonly acknowledged media genres as evident in Margaret Weigel TM s class analysis of the electric bulb advertising sign oespectaculars in Manhattan from 1892 to 1917 Wendy Korwin TM s visual analysis of a set of four image plates used within prescriptive literature and Amanda Klein TM s cinematic comparison of portrayed deviance in the 1950s juvenile delinquency teenpic and the 1990s ghetto action film Incorporated also are unique perspectives on traditional news media representations as in Thomas Grochowski TM s interpretation of celebrity defendant perspectives of O J Simpson Occasionally common themes thread particular chapters together allowing opportunities to understand how critics view the same or similar media differently For example David Sealy and Georges Claude Guilbert as well as Valentin Locoge offer analysis of the HBO television series OZ Additionally contemporary moral dilemmas and societal issues are covered as they appear in various media representations as when Barbara Barnett TM s discussion of journalistic representations of maternal infanticide and perfection appear alongside Robert Goff TM s analysis of the textured view of abortion provided by the film Vera Drake Hart TM s collection is important to expanding the scholarly understanding of media representations because it provokes thinking about what makes media mean so much to humans in particular social cultural historical and even technological contexts The issue of the detrimental effects of oeshared notions of deviance and social otherness is evident in chapters that highlight original perspectives useful for either scholarly analysis or challenging graduate level classroom discussions Also because the collection includes literary analysis it could serve well those with interest in literary criticism ELESJA RUMINSKI Ph D is an assistant professor of English at Indiana University of Pennsylvania with experience teaching mass communication film studies and visual communication Feminist Periodicals ,2004 Reforming Families Jennifer Anne Reich,2002 Tulsa Studies in Women's Literature ,2002 Journal of Palestine Studies ,2003 A quarterly on Palestinian affairs and the Arab Israeli conflict Feminist Thought Rosemarie Tong,2009 A critical introduction to the major traditions of feminist theory now with new considerations of care focused postcolonial and third wave feminism Gender and Law Katharine T. Bartlett,Deborah L. Rhode,2006 Instructors choose Gender and the Law Theory Doctrine Commentary for a thorough analysis of gender and law through several distinct perspectives which include formal equality substantive equality nonsubordination theory difference theory autonomy and non essentialism going far beyond traditional gender issues to draw cases theory and commentary from many different areas of the law such as employment law criminal law constitutional law family law civil procedure legal ethics property law and contracts explaining to students the complex ways in which laws are said to be gendered unique Putting Theory into Practice problems at the end of each section which allow students to apply the legal and theoretical tools to cutting edge issues The Fourth Edition keeps pace with important developments updated material on women in the legal profession and legal education the text contains updates of most important new cases and theoretical insights relating to employment law Title IX criminal sentencing welfare and Social Security reform affirmative action teenage pregnancy gay and lesbian rights cases statistics commentary and empirical studies of the law in action appear in the materials on sexual harassment domestic violence and rape important cases include Goodridge v Mass Nevada v Hibbs Lawrence v Texas and Jespersen v Harrah s more material on international law in the area of rape and global trafficking
