Mother, Please Let Me Go H. D. Graham, 2010 This book is about my exciting and wonderful career in the United States Air Force I listed my various assignments in the order in which they occurred and outlined the major events in my life while at each base Every assignment had a lot of good points and some that wasn't that great but I tried to focus on the exciting things A large portion of the book deals with my assignments in Vietnam and events that still haunt me today The events in the book start when I was a senior in high school trying to talk my Mother into giving me permission to enlist just as soon as I turn 17 years old I also wrote about some of the interesting things while in high school and about my large family I felt that it might be of interest to the reader to know that between all my brothers and I we accumulated over 170 years of military service to our country I ended the book with some events that happened while I was teaching and the jetliner that I observed on 10 Sep 01 practicing for the flight across southern Pennsylvania that crashed on 9 11
