Motion Sickness:

Principles and Practice of Travel Medicine Dr. Jane N. Zuckerman, 2002-01-03 Disease knows no frontiers and almost any place in the world can be reached within 24-36 hours less time than the incubation period of most infectious diseases. As one of today's healthcare professionals you are expected to prevent, identify and treat all infectious diseases irrespective of geographical and climatic limitations. To do this you must be well versed in the development of new and improved vaccines and the rapid advances in the development of the latest drugs and treatments. Principles and Practice of Travel Medicine provides up to the minute information on the prevention and treatment of travel related illness as well as the effects travel can have on people. Written in a distinctive style Zuckerman offers you not only the latest information but also an interesting thought provoking read. Your essential one stop resource for travel medicine includes Epidemiology and surveillance of infectious diseases, Malaria and other parasitic diseases, Aviation medicine and psychology, Altitude medicine, Illness in returning travellers, Vaccine preventable diseases, Children and travel. A Bibliographical Sourcebook of Compressed Air, Diving, and Submarine Medicine Ebbe Curtis Hoff, Leon Jack Greenbaum, 1948 A Bibliographic Sourcebook of Compressed Air, Diving and Submarine Medicine Medicine and Surgery Bureau, 1954 Vertigo Thomas Brandt, 2002-01-01 In the light of the latest clinical research this second edition has been completely rewritten to provide a timely monograph on the differential diagnosis and management of vertigo. The book is divided into sections covering the major subdivisions of vertigo including peripheral labyrinthine disorders, central vestibular disorders, benign paroxysmal positional vertigo, traumatic and familial vertigo, vertigo in childhood and in the elderly and related to drugs. Each includes a full description of the clinical features and diagnosis and the author stresses the relationship between management and the underlying pathological mechanism. Written by a leading authority in the field this will be of interest to all who treat vertigo patients as well as researchers working in related areas. Principles of Clinical Medicine for Space Flight Michael R. Barratt, Sam Lee Pool, 2008-03-20 Over the years a large body of knowledge has developed regarding the ways in which space flight affects the health of the personnel involved. Now for the first time this clinical knowledge on how to diagnose and treat conditions that either develop during a mission or because of a mission has been compiled by Drs Michael Barratt and Sam L Pool of the NASA Johnson Space Center. Complete with detailed information on the physiological and psychological affects of space flight as well as how to diagnose and treat everything from dental concerns to decompression to dermatological problems encountered this text is a must have for all those associated with aerospace medicine. Nonprescription Product Therapeutics W. Steven Pray, 2006 When it comes to helping customers make wiser and safer choices in their use of over the counter treatments the pharmacist's best source of information is Nonprescription Product Therapeutics. This text emphasizes the pharmacist's role in triage, assessing the best nonprescription products for a client and knowing when medical conditions warrant a referral to another health professional. Organized by condition rather than by drug the text is easy to consult and complements a disease based approach to therapeutics Pharmacists will find useful information on ingredients interactions contraindications and other essentials for helping customers choose appropriate nonprescription products The Second Edition contains additional charts drawings illustrations and tables The book includes decision making algorithms case studies patient counseling tips and warnings on dangerous or life threatening ingredients actions or situations Another unique feature of this text is A Pharmacist s Journal real life reports from the front lines by an award winning professor and researcher with over twenty years of experience in retail community pharmacy

Fundamentals of Aerospace Medicine Jeffrey R. Davis, M.D., Robert Johnson, Jan Stepanek, 2008 Now in its Fourth Edition with a new editorial team this comprehensive text addresses all medical and public health issues involved in the care of crews passengers and support personnel of aircraft and space vehicles Coverage includes human physiology under flight conditions clinical medicine in the aerospace environment and the impact of the aviation industry on global public health This edition features new chapters on radiation toxicology and microbiology dental considerations in aerospace medicine women s health issues commercial human space flight space exploration and unique aircraft including parachuting Other highlights include significant new information on respiratory diseases cardiovascular medicine infectious disease transmission and human response to acceleration
